

Biography

Erica Williams

ERICA L. WILLIAMS, was born in Queens, NY and raised in Maryland. She is the oldest child to Eric and Deborah Williams.

Erica was raised in a God-fearing home. Her parents instilled in her the ways of the Lord. It's because of their teachings she developed her own relationship with God. She enjoyed being involved in church activities, such as the junior usher board, singing in the youth choir, and being active in the youth department. As the scripture says, "Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

Erica comes from a lineage of preachers in her family. She grew up watching her entire family working in ministry. No matter how much she tried to run from ministry there was no way around it. It wasn't until later in her adulthood she realized her passion for ministry and begin to embrace what she was called to do. She wears many hats, and has been blessed with many talents that she now uses to enhance the kingdom of God.

Erica graduated with academic honors from James M. Bennett High School. Fall of 2003, she matriculated at the illustrious Morgan State University in Baltimore, Maryland where she received her Bachelors of Science in Public Health. In 2012, Erica furthered her education to earn a Master's degree at the historic HBCU, University of Maryland Eastern Shore. She received her Master of Science degree in Rehabilitation Counseling. The highlight of this journey was being able to graduate with her mother. A moment she will always cherish.

Erica is faithful to ministry and currently serves on the praise team. She also serves as the church administrator and public relations specialist. She loves God and God's people, but she realizes that balance is important. Outside of ministry she enjoys traveling, shopping, event planning, and spending time with family and friends. Erica is one that loves to have fun and enjoys life to the fullest.
