

Jon P. Burns

I am an artist based out of Cottage Grove, Minnesota. Originally I started out in the Horticulture industry working for Bailey Nursery. Later I decided to become an art apprentice and began studying at the Atelier Studio of Fine art in Minneapolis. It is there that I learned the skill of classical realism. This type of training is the same that of the old masters. I enjoy painting many subjects, but have been focused recently on still life and landscape painting. I do plan to expand into other subject matter as I grow as an artist. My artistic goal is to capture the beauty of light and composition in my own way and to share with the rest of the world.
