...the log in your eye, while the log is in your eye, first take the log out of your own eye, and then you will see clearly to take the speck out of your neighbor's eye. Do not give what is holy to dogs; and do not throw your pearls before swine, or they will trample them under foot and turn and maul you. "Ask, and it will be given to you. For everyone who asks receives, and everyone who seeks finds, and for everyone who knocks, the door will be opened. Is there anyone among you who, if his child asks for bread, will give a stone? Or if the child asks for a fish, will give a snake? If you then, who are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father in heaven give good things to those who ask him! "In everything do to others as you would have them do to you; for this is the law and the prophets. This is the truth. Peace be with you.

A historical illustration, likely a woodcut or engraving, depicting a large-scale industrial or military site. In the foreground, a large, dark, rectangular building with a gabled roof is emitting a thick, dark plume of smoke that rises into the sky. To the right of this building, a smaller, yellowish structure is also emitting a thick, white plume of smoke. The site is enclosed by a long, low wall or fence. In the background, a large, rugged mountain range is visible under a pale sky. The overall scene suggests a significant industrial or military operation from the 19th century.
