

Tennisform Ticker News Aggregation Service

The Tennisform Ticker is a dedicated tennis news aggregation service with a strong focus on ATP & WTA match reports, player quotes, and injury news. The service specializes in providing detailed insights into player match-ups and delivering concise, accurate match reporting.

Comprehensive Tennis News Coverage

The Tennisform Ticker provides a daily service that keeps subscribers up-to-date with all the latest tennis news across the ATP, WTA, Challenger, and ITF Tours.

In-Depth Historical Database

With a comprehensive database dating back to 2010, Tennisform Ticker is a treasure trove of tennis information. This extensive collection allows users to build detailed individual player profiles, pinpointing specific strengths, weaknesses, playing styles, and match-up preferences. The database includes over a decade of ATP & WTA match reports, offering invaluable insights into past player performances and head-to-head encounters.

Enhanced User Experience

Our recently upgraded website is faster, sleeker, and more user-friendly than ever. The modern design brings all of the relevant information together, making it easy to view everything in one place.

Split and Single View Configurations

- Split View: Enables you to visually compare and research two players or tournaments side by side in parallel windows. Ideal for efficiently conducting multiple searches at once. For example, after finding the match you want to bet on, you can quickly bring up the most recent match reports, injury news and quotes for each of the two players.
- Single View: Ideal for more focused analysis, such as detailed head-to-head comparisons or player performance in specific conditions. For instance, you might want to explore Matteo Berrettini's thoughts on playing in high-altitude or windy conditions, or what Jannik Sinner thinks about playing in Cincinnati.

Our in-depth and intuitive search function makes this sort of targeted research fast and efficient.

Live MTOs (Medical Time-Outs)

Enabled for Premium accounts, the Live MTO feature alerts users whenever there is a Medical Time-Out (MTO) taking place at any of the currently live matches on the ATP, WTA, Challenger, UTF and UTR Tours.

By allowing Chrome notifications, you get real-time injury alerts throughout the day, critical for making informed in-play betting decisions.

Tournament tabs and filters

Tennisform Ticker's quick and easy filtering system allows you to streamline your research by focusing solely on the information you want, including specific players and tournaments of interest.

The platform is organized into several dedicated tabs, each designed to target specific areas of interest:

The top bar lists each of this week's tournaments.

The second bar allows for filtering for more specific updates.

- Withdrawals: Keep track of the latest player withdrawals and how they might affect upcoming matches or tournament outcomes.
- Conditions: Provides insights into tournament conditions, such as surface speed, or the presence of altitude or wind, which can significantly impact player performance.
- Market Moves: Highlights significant movements in betting markets, often providing a useful indication of a player's fitness.
- Returning Players: Follow updates on players returning from an injury break or recent spells on the sidelines, often highlighting players who it might be worth avoiding from a betting point of view.
- Playing Styles & Match-Ups: Any post that references a playing style or match-up observation is tagged to appear under this tab. An excellent resource for building player profiles.
- Qualifying: Updates and reports on players advancing through tournament qualifying rounds, crucial for early-stage betting.
- Doubles Tennis: Focused news and analysis on doubles matches, often overlooked but rich with betting opportunities.
- Injuries: Comprehensive injury reports, including comments from the players and more detailed information regarding recent medical time-outs (MTO) or retirements.
- Statistics: This tab flags any posts that reference player statistics and links to the Tennisform draws sheets, which contain far more useful data points than the standard ATP & WTA tournament draw sheets, allowing for a more data-driven approach to analyzing match and tournament outcomes.
