Was diagnosed and using a CPAP since November 2023 and have been searching for a pillow that would allow me to sleep on my side and not disrupt my mask.

I purchased a standard size pillow. It arrived in a vacuum seal plastic. It is very soft and versatile for me. The cover 100 percent cotton and the filling is 100 percent polyester. I can lay my head on the pillow vertical or horizontal.

This pillow comes with a fitted pillowcase. The pillowcase is machine washable but the pillow cleansing is spot clean only.

I have used the pillow for 3-4 days and liked it enough to purchase a second one.

I looked at several pillow to help with my shoulder pain, and I use a CPAP machine. This one actually "cradles" my head in the right position, and my neck pain has reduced considerably. You CAN use a regular pillow case over it if you want to. It's much less expensive than most other options, and I keeps my head in place instead of letting me move out of position. Highly recommended.

This pillow is amazing I only wish I had found it a couple weeks sooner!!! I got a cervical laminoplasty two weeks ago(spine in neck cut open from back) I brought my own pillow to the hospital but I was unable to deal with it pressing on my incision site...I looked and looked and looked and found the U Pillow! This pillow cradles my head in all the right places and leaves a void where I need it to (on my incision site). It is not too firm, doesn't restrict your movement like some other pillows I have had (and I've tried a lot of them), it feels like I'm being cradled by a cloud! Anyone who is looking for an amazing pillow for head, neck, and shoulder support look no further than the U Pillow!!! It has changed the game for me for sure! I am recommending this pillow to my surgeon at the West Los Angeles VA for sure!!! They definitely need to invest for their neurosurgical patients!!!

U Sleep Pillow Cooling

★★★★★ Surprisingly Perfect

Reviewed in the United States on July 5, 2020

Size: U Pillow - Cooling | Verified Purchase

Absolutely love it! I was skeptical because it's pretty different than a regular pillow. It's not as wide and has a completely modified shape. The reason it works so well for me is because I hate the pillows that feel comfortable but once I lay on it, it completely flattens. But then, on the opposite side, the pillows that are too firm put a pain in my neck. This pillow is perfect because it's thick and firm, but the cutout area for the shoulder and neck keep your neck at a healthy angle. So I'm supported, comfortable, and not in pain in the morning. The last benefit that I don't think they even take into account is that since there is a sunken spot in the middle for your head, it seems to keep me from tossing and turning and rolling around. If you're like me, skeptical to try something new online that you haven't ever tested, spend the $45 on this pillow (I bought the case too, but the case definitely wouldn't be required if you wanted to save money). My wife didn't want one and she is using 3 pillows to try and create what I'm getting from this one. She likely will eventually admit she wants one too.

I love this pillow. I wanted a small shaped pillow with soft support to use between my knees when I sleep. I had one shaped similarly and loved it.

When it had to be replaced, finding another one was difficult. I tried one of the small memory foam shaped pillows. It was too firm for my needs and caused almost as much pressure as my knees did without a pillow. I had almost come to the conclusion that I would have to make my own when I came across this one.

This one is the the perfect size and the soft support is great. I don't like the memory foam pillows as they are too firm for my needs. The shape is perfect for keeping it in place without the need for straps.

I really like this body pillow. It's a good amount of fluffy without being too heavy to move around in bed. It offers a good amount of support between my knees for side sleeping.

The pillowcase is really silky smooth and feels a little cooler to the touch than some fabrics which is nice.

I appreciated that it came out of the box, fluffed up easily, and did not have any smells like plastic or anything. Definitely recommend!

To be honest, I originally got this pillow for myself. I would like to read in bed, but because of back pain, I have trouble propping myself up without pain. I was going to use this pillow for that (it mentions "reading" in the description), but had trouble figuring out how to do that.

So... I have a teenage son who tosses and turns in bed, with his pillow ending up who knows where. I gave this to him, and he LOVES it. It's very soft and cushy, and no matter how he ends up sleeping, he has some pillow to grab onto! Makes him very comfortable.

This would be great for pregnant women. It's very soft so you can position and arrange it just as you wish. Very good price for such a large pillow AND cover.

I've been using this pillow for over a week now, and I am really happy with it and the quality of sleep I've had. My whole life, I have had a problem with clenching and grinding my teeth. I recently read a suggestion that better posture can help. I immediately tried it, and yes, keeping my shoulders back and chin up helped me considerably. I realized that my pillow was keeping my head in a position at night that made it really easy for me to clench my jaw. This pillow allows the top of my head to fall back, keeping my chin up and significantly reduces my clenching. I am now waking up with less face and jaw pain, and hopefully my poor teeth are getting a break. The neck support is not too high or firm, which I've found on other pillows. I also appreciate the padding for when I lay on my side.
