Limitless Souls & Borderless Spirits

Hello Limitless Souls,

Welcome to the first edition of 'BE - The Infinite Canvas' on LinkedIn.

In this space, we delve into the expansive territories of mind, heart, body, and soul; unearthing our innate potential and embracing our shared legacy.

Step onto the infinite canvas of life, unraveling a rich tapestry of content that explores every facet of human existence. Here, we venture into the realms of legacy living, loving, and mindset; inviting you to join us on the transformative journey.

Delve into a world where philosophy, psychology, spirituality, and encouragement intersect. In this space, we celebrate diversity, encourage self-exploration, and champion the mantra, ...

Your Life is Broader Than Your Borders

What You Can Expect Here

Inspiration, Resources, and Opportunities

We are on a quest together!

We will share our resources, loads of inspiration, and all the opportunities we become aware of to help you fulfill your commitment to living your best life as your best self, daily!

This space is about ALL the things we think about, dream about, secretly fantasize about, and live life with.

We acknowledge our greatest hopes and deepest fears. But most importantly, we DO amazing things to BE our best self.

Welcome to the Limitless Community

DO SOMETHING
TODAY THAT YOUR FUTURE SELF WILL THANK YOU FOR.

*Our actions and decisions today will shape
the way we will be living in the future.*

Choose Your Life, Your Way

In each moment, remember to embrace the boundless fullness of your existence, to extend beyond perceived limitations, and to step into the realm of limitless potential. This is your life, and its breadth is only confined by your imagination.

In the sphere of Legacy Living and Legacy Mindset, we understand that legacy is not merely about our tangible accomplishments. It's about the love we give, the joy we share, and the peace we cultivate within ourselves and extend to others. It's about embracing Wu-Wei, aligning our actions with the natural flow of life, and remaining true to our values. This is legacy living, and we invite you to embody it in your everyday existence.

Book of the Month

Our feature reference this month is the timeless wisdom of "Tao Te Ching" by Lao Tzu.

This book is more than just a read: it's an invitation to a philosophical journey that unravels the profound wisdom of Tao.

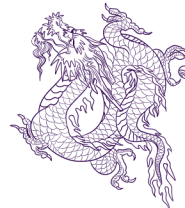

It's teachings inspire a deeper connection with yourself, the world, and the harmony that lies within.

"New Beginnings are often disguised as painful endings."

~ Lao Tzu

While there are several translations and adaptation in print, James Harris' version is a smoother read for those entering the voyage through understanding the nuances of Eastern philosophy and concepts.

Opportunity Express

Experience Life - Wu Wei

Once you choose your life, let it flow!

Effortless Action or the action of in-exertion, affords you the opportunity and benefit of doing things in a manner that reduces stress and enhances peace.

The upcoming issues of
'BE ~ The Infinite Canvas'

will be full of opportunities in 4 key areas:

- Live...
- Love...
- Work...
- Play...

Practice Wu Wei!

If any opportunity waves at you and gets your heart and mind excited, BEFORE you jump in and get "busy" in a task; get "quiet." Ask yourself, does taking advantage of this opportunity flow or align with my short, mid, or long range goals? Will I enjoy learning new things if required?

Will I feel stressed or inspired in doing so?

Reflections & Dreams

Personal R&D

In the vein of defying norms and exploring endless possibilities, we invite you to imagine a world where the sky is purple. In this world, what personal boundaries would you push? What new realms of your mind, heart, body, and soul would you choose to explore? Share your profound insights with us using; #LimitlessSouls

Also take a moment to celebrate relationships with the exceptional people in your lives. Through the bonds of mutual respect, love, and shared growth, they support, encourage, and inspire us in our journey. Let's continue to nurture these relationships as we understand that in the grand tapestry of life, we are all intricately interconnected.

Lastly, we remind ourselves of the joy that life's diversity brings. Whether it's through the rhythm of music, the flavors of food, the exhilaration of play, or the soothing presence of pets, let's relish each moment. Engage in a hobby, dance to your favorite tune, indulge in a scrumptious meal, or simply cherish a moment of tranquility with your pet. Life is vibrantly diverse and incredibly beautiful.

Celebrate it!
