

June 13, 2019
Letter of Endorsement

My name is Marsha Wietecha and I am the Producer and Host of Born To Talk Radio Podcast Show. I am honored to share my endorsement and letter of support for Mona Clayton and The Nurses Pub Foundation.

I met Mona five years ago during our Toastmaster's meeting. I was immediately impressed with her story and her passion for helping single mothers in South Central Los Angeles to become registered nurses. Her story of her daughter being the driving force for becoming successful and embarking on entrepreneurship touched me and my intrigue with the organization led me to accept the offer to act as Mistress of Ceremonies for last year's seminar held at National University. The panelist and multiple exhibitors were of superior quality and the results phenomenal. The students left with a message of endurance and a feeling of being inspired by the speakers and panelists.

I found the seminar to be well planned, professionally executed and most importantly an extremely inspiring experience for the nursing students and seasoned nurses. I have found the subsequent workshops, seminars, products and work exceptional. Mona displays a commitment to a superior work ethic and reliability for producing ongoing works for building the nursing community.

I fully support The Nurses Pub Foundation and Mona Clayton's vision for growing the nursing community globally and encourage your support as an investor or sponsor.

Sincerely,

Marsha Wietecha

Producer and Host Born to Talk Radio Podcast