REFLECTIONS FROM FR. MATTHEW

Called and Sent to Share the Good News of Salvation

Today's Gospel reading begins with Jesus' journey to Jerusalem, which will end with his ministry in Jerusalem. Jesus is determined to journey to Jerusalem. For Luke, Jesus' ministry begins in Galilee and then is one long journey to Jerusalem. In Jerusalem he will meet his death but also enter into his glory. Only in Luke does Jesus then spend 40 days in Jerusalem instructing his disciples. It is in Jerusalem that his disciples wait after his Ascension to be sent the Holy Spirit on Pentecost. And it is from Jerusalem, in Luke's second volume, the Acts of the Apostles, that the Good News is spread to Rome and the ends of the earth.

Jesus today reminds us of the radical demands of discipleship. The three people who volunteer to become disciples on this journey show that they do not understand the demands Jesus will make of them. Neither care of self, care for the dead, nor care of one's family can come before the demands of discipleship. Jesus reminds the first volunteer, who would go wherever Jesus goes, that animals in the wild have more security than do Jesus and his followers. The second, who wants to bury a parent, is reminded that the demands of proclaiming the Kingdom of God take precedence. And the third, who wants to say farewell to his family, is reminded that once you put your hand to the plow you cannot look back or the furrow will be crooked. Such a person is not ready for the Kingdom of God.

Last Sunday we celebrated and reflected on how we are called to be Eucharistic people. This Sunday Jesus invites us to follow him and respond to his call to share the Good News. This calling is for each one of us. Let us ask how am I called today, with all my limitations, to serve the Lord and share the gospel with others. Let us examine our excuses not to respond to this call, whether it be age, health, lack of talents or attachments and priorities of this world. Let us trust that the Lord who calls us will strengthen us to do his work.
