Biographies

Kristi Siedow-Thompson (“Zazzalil” / Costume Designer) is an award-winning fashion designer based out of New York City. Most recently her looks were featured on basketball star Flau’Jae Johnson in a Samsung commercial which debuted near the Super Bowl. When living in Colorado, she performed with award-winning a capella group Curious Gage and Denver Dance’s performing dance troupe. Favorite roles include Inga in Young Frankenstein, April in Company, Valencienne in The Merry Widow, Nancy in Albert Herring, and Grace in Annie. Alex Colin (“Jemilla”) Having performed in various theaters in Colorado, Alex is beyond thrilled to FINALLY be performing in the town she lives in (as is her poor car), and to be making her Indigo Theatre Company debut! Some of Alex’s favorite roles include Judy in 9 to 5, Heather Chandler in Heathers, Beth March in Little Women, Sister Robert Anne in Nunsense, Nancy in Oliver!, Lucy in Jekyll and Hyde and every single Delta Nu in Legally Blonde. She’d like to thank the creative team for giving her this BANANAS opportunity, the cast for inspiring her with their fearless antics, her tribe for always being steady, and Trix for being home. And to YOU, the audience... Welcome to the Stone Age!

Jade Maniak (“Emberly”) is thrilled to be making her debut with Indigo Theatre Company as Emberly in Firebringer! A lover of theatre, dance, music, and all things delightfully weird, Jade is excited to bring Emberly’s fiery spirit and humor to the stage. When she’s not performing, Jade can be found creating music, baking, playing video games, and snuggling with her cat, Sorsha.

Andy Steinhauer (“Grunt”) This is Andy's first show back in Northern Colorado after 15-ish years away. As a CSU theatre grad and longtime workaholic, he's ecstatic to be back in the scene that invigorated him to begin with. Past credits are from before he had any grey hair, so if you've seen him on stage, congratulations, you probably have some grey hair too! And hopefully a smile line or two...

Biographies

Tyra Toepfer (“Molag”) is thrilled to be working with Indigo Theatre Company on their second show! Tyra has been performing in Northern Colorado for over 20 years. Her favorite roles include: Kate in Sylvia, The Baker's Wife in Into the Woods, Sister Mary Hubert in Nunsense, and the Narrator in Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. She is excited to get to perform with friends old and new and especially with her daughter Aria. She would like to thank her amazing partner Jared for all his support and for holding down the fort. She hopes you enjoy this wacky, silly show!

Aurora Dunning (“Keeri”) This is Aurora's first show with Indigo, but she has been acting for nearly a decade! You've recently seen her in Legally Blonde The Musical (CLTP) as Margot and The Prom (FCCT) as Dee Dee Allen. She has found so much joy in working with all of the amazingly talented people in this cast! "It's dancing!" -Keeri

Samantha Jo Staggs (“Tiblyn”) A Fort Collins native & graduate of DePaul University in Chicago (Master of Music: Opera) & University of Denver (Bachelor of Music: Classical Voice), Samantha is so excited she could hold up the sky in her debut with ITC. She has performed across the US and Italy in theater, musicals and opera. Past Favorites Include: Fiordiligi (Così Fan Tutte), Suor Angelica (Emerald City Opera & NY Lyric Opera), Martha (White Christmas-Candlelight), Karin (Church Basement Ladies-Candlelight), Mother Abbess (Sound of Music-Candlelight & Town Hall), Jessie (Sweat-Openstage) Sister Mary Regina (Nunsense - Candlelight & Greeley Stampede Troupe). For my Boys-Barrett, William & Henry.

Shelby Hains (“Schwoopsie”) Schwoopsie is so excited to have Shelby bring her to life! She heard about Shelby’s last performance with Indigo Theatre in Sylvia and thought, “This girl knows comedy. It’s almost like she invented it!” Schwoopsie is also thankful to Shelby’s friends and family who have supported her love of the theatre for over 20 years, and lead her to this role.

Biographies

Robin Rader (“Smelly Balls”) Robin Rader is a 3rd Year Musical Theatre Major at Colorado State University and is so excited to be playing Smelly Balls in Firebringer! Most recently they played Fenton in The Merry Wives of Windsor and Barry Glickmen in The Prom! They would love to thank their family and friends for always supporting them and their amazing Cast and Crew for always putting a smile on their face!

Drew Cuthbertson (“Ducker” / Sound Designer) last appeared on stage as Greg in Sylvia. Other favorite roles include the Dr. Bradman in Blithe Spirit, Engineer in Elephant’s Graveyard, Father Ramona in How to Survive your Family at Christmas, and Paul in Born Yesterday. You might recognize Drew’s voice from his years as a radio DJ on Retro 102.5, 99.9 The Point and 94.3 The X. He’ll never admit he’s a very good actor, but he’s thrilled to be part of the foundation for Indigo Theatre Company.

Sarah Paul (“Chorn” / Director) is currently living her dream, producing live theatre with the love of her life, Drew! Sarah’s favorite roles include Sister Mary Amnesia in Nunsense, Paulette in Legally Blonde, Mabel in The Pirates of Penzance, and the title roles in Sylvia and Cinderella. She would like to thank the cast and crew for their hard work and dedication - without whom there is no show. “Extra thank you to my family, to Patrice for the years of encouragement and to Kristi for genuinely saving my life. We can finally do another show together. Love you lots.”

Andrew Munz (“Clark” / “Nicolai” / Puppeteer) is a performer, playwright and director originally from Jackson Hole, WY, who now lives in Fort Collins. He is the creator of I Can Ski Forever, a popular series of five theatrical shows parodying ski town culture and is a two-time Wyoming Arts Council fellow. Thank you to Sarah, Kristi and the extremely talented cast & crew of Firebringer for welcoming him into his first Colorado production! Love to Mom, always.

Biographies

Aria Prospero (“Trunkell” / “Snarl” / Lead Puppeteer) is thrilled to be making her Indigo Theatre debut. While it’s been a while since she’s been on stage, she was most recently seen as Collins in Rent. This is Aria’s first time puppeteering and she is ecstatic to share her love of puppets and theatre with all of you. She’d like to thank her family and close friends for giving her the courage to continue pursuing her love of theater.

Sarah Wilhelm (Choreographer / Stage Manager) is overjoyed and humbled to be working with Indigo Theatre. She enjoys challenging herself as a choreographer and working with a variety of organizations in Colorado. “Thank you to Mik for helping me with this project and to the most supportive husband ever, Mikeal.”

Phi Johnson-Grimes (Puppet and Prop Designer) Phi is incredibly excited to be designing for this absolute dream show! By day, Phi teaches middle school theatre. By night they act, direct, make silly (and occasionally serious) crafts, write, and consume way too much Dropout content. They would like to thank their parents for the assistance in taking on this mammoth (haha, get it?) project.

Mirelle Rhodes (Prop Designer) can make anything, and does, in fact, make everything as her full time career with ID Fabrications. Mirelle primarily designs accessories for professional mermaids and was featured in the Netflix Documentary MerPeople. Visit her online at idfabrications.com

INDIGO
THEATRE COMPANY, LLC

About Us

Indigo Theatre Company casts roles solely on artistic merit, without regard to “traditional casting limitations.”

The inspiration for the name “Indigo” comes from DC Comics’ Indigo Lanterns: superheroes who derive their power from compassion. As lifelong comic book fans, our founders felt that "compassion" was the perfect core value for the company.
