

Stephanie Robbins MDIV

Stephanie grew up in rural Nova Scotia. She graduated from Bob Jones University in Greenville, South Carolina, USA with a BA in Church Ministries & Counseling. Stephanie has a Master of Divinity, with a specialization in Spiritual and Leadership Formation from Acadia Divinity College.

She lives in Halifax, Nova Scotia, and has two adult children.

Stephanie is an innovative and visionary leader. Steph served on the Leadership Team of her local church for 5 years and has served in the past on the board of several non-profit organizations.

For the past 15 years, Stephanie has founded and led several parachurch ministries such as Living Free (a monthly non-denominational women's event), and Dare2Be - a one-day teen girl conference, Steph influenced, mentored, and empowered young girls throughout the Atlantic provinces. Also, Steph has formed and organized, recently, a coffee connection for leaders, and an Alpha Course launch team who have established Alphas in several local churches, parishes, and universities. Steph is a competent team builder, and adept recruiter, actively involved in coaching, collaborating, and developing emerging, maturing and mature leaders in their spiritual growth and development. Steph's excellent relational and interpersonal skills have helped her become a natural motivator for bringing diverse people together to serve a common good.

Stephanie is an accomplished and articulate writer. Her popular, weekly Monday Morning Musings blog reached over 1500 followers in a few months. Steph has also published articles and devotionals for HomeLife, RSVP ministries, and other online blogs covering leadership, theology, and everyday living. As well, she has developed curricula and sermons.

Stephanie is a capable communicator, preacher, and motivational bible teacher making her a popular speaker for Conferences, Retreats, Training and Sunday morning services. Stephanie has spent the past 17 years preaching and teaching under Steph Robbins Ministries (now called LeadHer Ministries). Steph is known for her ability to take tough, challenging theological principles, and bring them to a practical level.

Stephanie is an innovative, action-oriented, creative, collaborative leader who seeks groundbreaking ministry opportunities to partner with churches and ministries where her gifts and calling are used by God to impact the Kingdom, by focusing on the development of current and future leaders, casting vision, building teams and mentoring and motivating people to rise up, and take their place in the Missio Dei.
