Welcome To Grapevine! - Welcome Party and Dinner

Grapevine Vintage Cotton Belt Railroad Station, 705 S. Main Street

All Aboard! Welcome to Grapevine!

Grapevine was founded in 1844 (one year prior to the Republic of Texas becoming the State of Texas). Grapevine owes much of its evolution to the arrival of the railroad. The Cotton Belt Route made its way to Grapevine in 1888, providing transportation for people and goods. Grapevine was named from the wild mustang grapes that once grew abundantly in the area.

We hope that you will join us at the Grapevine Vintage Railroad with your ticket to see this 1888 Cotton Belt Railroad Depot and step aboard Vinny, a 1950's diesel locomotive.

The train will not be moving during our event but will be the backdrop for our dinner. This is a great photo op and become familiar with downtown Grapevine as well as the locations of all the Friday events. We will be eating dinner on the train platform and enjoying dessert inside the train. Beer and wine available for purchase.

Entertainment to be announced.

Show: "Oil's Well That Ends Well"

Welcome, dear guests, to the wake of Derrick Von Spindletop. Our town's tolerable business investor and oil tycoon was found dead in his study two days ago. As we gather here today, perhaps there may be more to Spindletop's "natural" death than meets the eye. Could his wife, Francine, have cashed in early on his life insurance? Or it may have been Seth Poole, who has plodded here all the way from the piney woods of East Texas. Perhaps Seth's pursuit of a partnership proved deadly? And then there's the two new Wildcatters in town. Did Wally sink Spindletop's ship into the depths of Davy Jones' locker? Or did one of Helga's manic mechanisms bring Derrick to his demise? Send an urgent telegram to the Marshal, County Sheriff, and Texas Ranger! The wealthiest man in town has been struck down in this hunt for black gold, and we're going to need all the help we can get!

Western Dress if you choose. Don't forget your bandana necklace and bracelet you made today.

Seasons of Stuff: Simplifying your Home and Memories Through Every Season of Motherhood

As moms, we're the memory keepers and the household managers of our families — which means the clutter doesn't stop at the camera roll. From the overflowing playroom to the bins of kid clothes, school papers, and the 50,000 photos sitting on your phone, it can all start to feel like too much.

Mary Boyle, Professional Photo Organizer and Owner of The Photo Sister, will explore how to simplify both your home and your memories so that your spaces — and your stories — feel lighter, more intentional, and easier to enjoy.

You'll learn how to:

- Create simple systems to declutter and organize your family's photos and mementos, so you can actually find and enjoy them.
- Decide which keepsakes, kids' artwork and sentimental items are worth saving (and how to store them beautifully, without taking up valuable storage space).
- Transform favorite family moments into shareable albums, photo books or memory boxes.
- Bring order to "hot spots" like entryways, closets, and toy zones using easy decluttering frameworks.
- Reclaim both your physical and digital space by focusing on what truly matters.

Whether you're in the toddler trenches or packing up for college, you'll walk away with fresh motivation and practical strategies to make your home — and your memories — feel calm, ordered and full of meaning

Play Therapy as a Way to Modify Behavior

Lara "Lulu" Schmid, LPC, LCDC-I, founder of Tenderhands Counseling, will help us understand what play therapy is, how to know if your child needs it, and how it can help. As a fellow parent she recognizes the reality of limitations parents often operate within. Most Children have trouble adjusting at some time as they don't know the words to describe what they are feeling and thinking, so sometimes they communicate through behaviour that isn't always effective. This presentation will provide a greater understanding of anxiety in the brain and a strategy or two that you can walk out and implement.

Christmas Ornament Craft

Grapevine is the official Christmas Capital of Texas. Grapevine is also known for wine and is home to GrapeFest (the Largest Wine Festival in the Southwest). We will be combining the two and make a unique Christmas ornament out of wine corks.
