

On Thursday, November 19 and Friday, November 20, Greg & The Morning Buzz will extend its broadcast to a 13-and-a-half-hour radiothon, from 5:30 a.m. – 7 p.m. On-air personalities from the morning show will encourage listeners to donate to Lend A Helping Can by calling the station or by participating in an online auction.

“Our 30th year of Lend a Helping Can will definitely be the most challenging yet,” said Greg Kretschmar, on-air personality of Greg & The Morning Buzz. “Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the need for food in our community is greater than ever while many of the resources we’ve relied on for fundraising in the past are limited. We look forward to helping our community in need with the help of our generous listeners.”

Lend a Helping Can benefits organizations including The Salvation Army of Manchester, The Salvation Army of Portsmouth, The Salvation Army of Central Vermont, My Friend’s Place, New Horizons of New Hampshire, The New Hampshire Food Bank, Community Action Partnership of Strafford County, Community Action Programs of Rockingham County, Community Partners, Families in Transition, David’s House and Crossroads House.

Some of the items up for this year’s online auction include a fishing trip with Captain Dave from Nat Geo’s Wicked Tuna, LNA Tuitions, generators, autographed guitars and more Incentives and gifts will be provided by local businesses, musical artists and record labels throughout the fundraiser. For a full list, to bid on an item or to make a donation, listeners can visit morningbuzz.com.

Lend A Helping Can started 30 years ago as a canned food donation drive. As the support from the New Hampshire community grew, the fundraiser turned into an online auction and a radiothon. Last year, Lend A Helping Can raised over $175,000 to benefit local charities. Since its inception, the event has raised well over $1.2 million and hundreds of tons of canned food items to feed residents in need. The presenting sponsor for the radiothon is the Manchester-Boston Regional Airport.
