Flu ranks among the TOP 10 CAUSES OF DEATH in American Indians.

American Indians CAN BE AT HIGHER RISK for developing serious flu complications, such as bronchitis and pneumonia, and may need to travel farther to receive care.

Young children and elders ARE MORE LIKELY TO BE HOSPITALIZED from flu.

Children with WITH SPECIAL HEALTHCARE NEEDS OR PREEXISTING CONDITIONS, such as asthma and diabetes, are more vulnerable to serious flu illness.

IF ENOUGH PEOPLE ARE VACCINATED, the more protection we offer to children who are unable to get vaccinated because they are less than 6 months of age or due to weakened immune systems.

Pediatricians, parents, and families can work together to ensure children receive a seasonal influenza vaccine each year to STAY SAFE AND PROTECTED.
