

Thank You

Greetings,

I'm Samar Elhamalawy, the Vice Principal of Ain Al Khaleej Private School. As a Canadian, I embarked upon a journey to the United Arab Emirates more than a decade ago with the intention of enriching my educational experience. During this educational journey, I have developed a profound admiration for the country and its citizens.

My enduring passion for education has consistently served as the guiding force behind my unwavering commitment to providing every student with best learning opportunities. Here at AAKPS, our "Students' First" initiative reinforces our commitment to making sure we foster a responsive pedagogical approach for all learning groups. We are dedicated to building the leaders of tomorrow, today!

Vice Principal

Samar

