BIRTH OF A NEW WORLD THROUGH THE HOLY SPIRIT BY DIANE TAIT

I thought I would share with you my final project for my Holy Spirit Course I just finished at AST.

Through birth, through fire, through water.
Womb to Tomb.

It draws us into deeper contemplation as we connect humanity and divinity through the Spirit.

As the Spirit looks down tenderly on this new creation, she feels the hope and longing of a mother feeling the first quickening of life in her womb. She also anticipates the pain of childbirth. Of having her creation violently pushed from her body. Tears of anguish.

Perspiration of labour. There will be an opening, as the heavens open, and water and blood will flow, birthing a new Creation. The Spirit herself baptizes the world with her sweat and tears.

Mary, a woman impregnated. Filled with the holy spirit, with new life, a new Creation. Not just of flesh and blood, but a new world. A world created, and recreated. Renewed by the Spirit. Mary's brow in Jesus birth and in her helplessness at his death, of our own suffering and ache.

This new world will be crucified, a violent death of spilled blood and water (John 19:34). The empty womb, where once there was life, that life walks the Earth. The empty tomb means new life freed from the darkness and despair of death.
