CONNIE BROWN

WELCOME

I am so glad you are here! My name is Connie I am the director and founder of Wildflowers Co-Op. I am so excited to bring this support & service to the neurodiverse community! I can't wait to meet you and your amazing family!

ABOUT ME

I am a mom of 3! My oldest son Boone was diagnosed with ASD back in 2021! Every since then I have been advocating, supporting, and researching all the best ways to support my family and Boone's autism!

Before staying home full time and running my non-profit Pockets of Peace I was an educator. I taught/worked in Early Childhood Education for 10 years! I have my BA in Psychology with an emphasis in child & family studies. I also have an associates degree in early childhood education. I am currently getting my training to be an RBT as well! I am so excited to combine my favorite things, my family and teaching! I can't wait for this new adventure.

HOW DID WILDFLOWERS START?

When my husband and I decided to homeschool our son Boone who has ASD we knew we needed as much support as possible! I could not find any co-op groups that were for families with children who have ASD. I wanted to be with people who understand my life, do not judge our life, and are like minded. That's when Wildflowers was created. A safe place for families like mine to teach, encourage, and support their child with ASD.
