

I am a Bulk supplier of banknotes

Where do your banknotes come from?

Direct from NCS
(and have not been recirculated since collection from NCS member)

You can confirm to your customers that the notes you provide them with are compliant with the Code.

Not direct from NCS
(i.e. the banknotes have been recirculated since they were authenticated by an NCS member)

To comply with the Code

Notes must be authenticated using an authenticator and software / firmware version listed on the relevant machine testing framework.

You must also comply with principles 2.1, 3. 4.1, and 4.4 of the Code

You can only confirm to your customers that the banknotes you provide them with are compliant if authentication has been carried out in accordance with Code principles, and that the notes have not been recirculated since authentication was undertaken.
