Tradition

Which side do we each stand on?
Whichever side you please!

What is the right way to enter?
*Walk in with a Wedding Party. Walk in with your parents. Walk in together.
Mingle with guests then give me the nod to start. Honestly, you do whatever makes you happy.*

Are the Best Man/Woman &
Maid/Man of Honour the witnesses?
*Sure if you want. Anyone over 18 who understands English can be a Witness (they must also be sober...just like you!) It can be a surprise to them.
We can pull the names out of a hat at the ceremony.
I don't need to see their ID.*

Legends I love working with:

Fox & Wildling Photography

Sally's Top Tip: Definitely book in your favourite vendors ASAP. Set a date, book your venue, then find a celebrant and a photographer. Other vendors can come at a later date or as you have funds to pay deposits.

If planning a wedding in less than 12 months, pick a month that's not typically popular to avoid disappointment on getting top vendors. Late May to early September (cooler winter months) will have a lot more flexibility from all vendors and availability.

Top Tip: Don't overthink music selections. Give a handful of your non-negotiable must plays and some definite do not plays and let the DJ or Band do their thing!

Fun Stuff

My Fun Stuff Guide is so popular on both the Love Hub and at Open Days! Here are a few snippets from it - if you are one of my couples, you have access to the full version on the Love Hub (link in your Booking Email)

Witness Lottery

Put some (or all) of your guest names into a hat, box or bag and we'll pull two names out at the end of your ceremony.

Midnight Munchies

Organise some yummy food to be delivered before your reception ends (burgers, pizza, kebabs etc.) to soak up all the drinks and give everyone a boost for the big finish of your big day.

Cartoon me

Hire a caricaturist to draw pics of your guests throughout the day for them to keep as favours or for you to stick in a Guest Book. Magicians are great fun for receptions too!

Shots or Champers

While you're signing your certificates, hand out shots or champers so everyone can toast you when I introduce you as Australia's Newest Newlyweds!

Beat the freeze

On a cold day, have some warm coffees, hot choc or mulled wine available to guests on arrival. Bring the warm & fuzzies to your ceremony.

Friendship Bouquet

Create your bouquet as you walk in. Your special people stand along the aisle with a flower they have chosen from a basket when they arrived and as you walk down the aisle, they each hand you the flower. The last person has ribbon to tie them all together.

Beat the heat

Have an ice cream cart or soft-serve van come to serve treats to cool your guests off! Maybe a Cocktail cart or Beer Boys with ice cold drinks? Hot sweaty guests kill good vibes - stay cool!
