About Me:

I am a devoted husband, a proud father of two boys, a caring son to a single mother, and a multi-talented professional with a diverse range of skills. With over 25 years of experience in the security industry, I have led teams for some of the world's largest corporations, including Walt Disney World, Amazon, and Meta (Facebook).

As a former Deputy Sheriff, I hold a bachelor's degree in Criminal Justice with a Security Leadership certificate from the University of Central Florida, as well as a Master's in Disaster & Emergency Management from American Military University. I have also had the honor of leading security teams during major international events such as Super Bowl 50, Major League Baseball, National Basketball Association, and World-Class Marathons, among many others.

As a speaker, author, and podcaster, I have shared my security knowledge with audiences around the world. I am the author of the Amazon #1 Release, "So, You Want to Get into Corporate Security?" and have earned the moniker, "The Corporate Security Translator," for my ability to communicate complex security concepts to a wide range of audiences.

Above all, I am dedicated to building world-class customer-centric security experiences that create memorable outcomes. As a leader in the security industry, I have a record of success in providing the strategic direction necessary to delight millions of guests and employees worldwide.
