Dear Mr. Trudeau,

On behalf of the Boulder Police Department, we want to thank you for the excellent service provided to our headquarters building last week. The provision of additional security on our windows and partitions was received with the commitment from your team to give the best to our team, men and women that we feel give their best every day to their community. The product itself gives our staff a sense of increased security and protection from threats during what has become a volatile time in policing.

In addition to the unique security product, the team sent to work with us was fully aware of their environment and provided such care when installing these barriers. Their attention to detail caught several areas that we had not seen, and they self-initiated solving those concerns in providing our department with full coverage.

We recognize that the goods and services provided went well beyond the project estimate. This gift of protection covers us from every considered angle above and beyond what we could have expected.

Thank you for your product, your professional team, and the gift of security to our team as they enter and work in the Boulder Police Department.

Sincerely,

Maris Herold
Chief, City of Boulder Police
