Century West:

We finally got approval on the contract documents and can advertise and go to bid. There's a long lead time on required equipment for the lift station project so once a contractor is hired we can get things order and be ready to start work in the spring when weather permits.

We had a meeting with the Military Department two weeks ago, they will be handling our FEMA paperwork.

Canaday asked if it would be possible to take some temporary measures to put a road in where the bridge was removed so emergency services and residents have easier access through the winter. Dan said he would look into it, but it may be a problem because of the waterway there, Department of Ecology and Department of Fish and Wildlife may not allow it.

Public Comment:

Dorothy Giddings: Mrs. Giddings asked if the City property next to her building on First Street was for sale, she heard that two people were bidding on it. Council informed her that the piece of property is not for sale.

Shirley St. James: Stated that it is not personal when people don't support a variance or other request. The reason the City has ordinances is for the betterment of the city. If people do not wish to live where there are ordinances and regulations they should move outside of town. The reason she enjoys living in the city is because there are ordinances that provide safeguards.
