Echinacea Premium

Daily Immune System Support*

Echinacea is a vibrant flowering plant used for more than a thousand years to support the immune system. Although there are many Echinacea supplements on the market today, not all Echinacea products are the same quality nor will they have the same effect.*

Echinacea root has been used traditionally to help strengthen and support the immune system, our body's natural defense mechanism.*

What is Echinacea Premium?

Echinacea Premium is a high-quality supplement that helps support and maintain a healthy immune system. As a result of our extensive research we know that a high-quality Echinacea product should contain:

- The right herb species: Echinacea angustifolia and Echinacea purpurea
- The right part of the plant: the root exclusively (not flowers or the whole plant)
- Therapeutic levels of the known active component: alkylamides

Research has shown that the alkylamides are the most important compounds in Echinacea for assisting your immune system. You will notice the alkylamides immediately when you taste them. Chew a high-quality tablet and you will experience a strong tingling sensation in your mouth that you will not forget! If the Echinacea product you are taking doesn't tingle, it doesn't have the active alkylamides that help to maintain a healthy immune system.*

Who Needs Echinacea Premium?

Every one of us, at any age, can benefit from taking Echinacea Premium to maintain a healthy immune system.*

Compelling
