In Memorium Grace VanWinkle

After nearly a Century of "Faithfulness to our Lord", Grace Evelyn Van Winkle, age 98, passed away peacefully August 7, 2026, at La Vida Real in El Cajon, California.

Grace was born on April 5, 1928, in Hutchinson, Kansas, the youngest child of Pastor Virgil Mott Hayes and Elsie Lillian Parkhurst. After living most of her early years in Kansas, she moved to California in 1947 and married her War-time pen pal, Alfred Van Winkle. For the past 52 years, Grace enjoyed living on the property she and Alf purchased in Jamul, California, the Van Winkle Tree Farm. There she sold Christmas trees, ran the gift shop, providing free popcorn and spiced cider and tea, and hot chocolate, while always having a smile for her customers who came from all over San Diego Co. as well as Jamul. Grace hosted Fund-raising events for the Home of Guiding Hands, donated many Christmas trees to the schools and Indian Hills Camp. She was active with the Jamul Volunteer Fire Department, doing pancake breakfasts, etc., hosting school field trips and any Service member who needed a "Home for the Holidays".

She was passionate about her faith, family and friends. Staying sharp minded until the very end, Grace filled her life with service to her Church, the Church choir, the Farm Bureau, Genealogy, travel, Daughters of the American Revolution, Studebaker club, playing cards, sewing, crafting, and quilting. The gift shop at the Van Winkle Tree Farm was festively merchandized each year displaying all her quilts, Christmas ornaments, centerpieces, and wreaths.

In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her husband, Alfred Van Winkle (married almost 70 years), one son Larry Van Winkle, sister Esther, and two brothers, Grant and Charles. Grace devoted her life to being a loving mother, grandmother, and great-grandmother. She is survived by her devoted daughter, Lyn, her sons, Darrell and his wife, Marilyn, and Carl and his wife, Kitty, and six grandchildren, Scott Van Winkle, Tara Van Winkle, Lucas Van Winkle, Cara O'Connor, Chris Corea, Colbys Corea Hernandez, and Fergie Van Winkle. "GG" held a deep affection for her 8 surviving great grandchildren who were eternally influenced by God's love because of her. All, along with many other family and friends, as well as her cat Sissy, will sadly miss her.

A memorial service celebrating Grace's Life will be held on October 3, 2026, at 11:00AM at Vista La Mesa Christian Church, in La Mesa, CA. We invite all who knew and loved Grace and her family, to join us in honoring her memory,

Jamul - Dulzura Community Planning Group

By Eve Nasby

Your Voice, Your Community: Join the Jamul Dulzura Community Planning Group The Jamul Dulzura Community Planning Group (JDCPG) is looking for neighbors ready to shape the future of our community — and right now, we have five open seats waiting to be filled.

These vacancies come as several long-serving members retire or move out of the area after years of dedicated service. We're deeply grateful for their contributions, and now it's time to welcome new voices to carry the work forward. Why Join?

Shape what matters most. As a planning group member, you'll have a direct say in land use decisions, development proposals, road and infrastructure projects, and community character issues that affect your daily life and your neighbors' too.

Build real connections. Serving on the group means working alongside dedicated residents who care deeply about Jamul and Dulzura. It's a chance to build lasting relationships with people who share your commitment to this community.

Gain valuable experience. Members develop a working knowledge of county planning processes, public policy, and civic leadership — skills that carry over into countless other areas of life.

Leave a lasting mark. Decisions made by this group shape the landscape, safety, and character of Jamul and Dulzura for generations to come. Few volunteer roles offer this level of tangible, lasting impact.

No special background required. You don't need to be a planner or policy expert — just a resident who cares about the community and is willing to show up, listen, and contribute thoughtful input. Meetings are open, collegial, and manageable in time commitment. If you've ever wanted a real seat at the table where local decisions get made, this is your moment. Interested? Email your interest to jdcpgchair@gmail.com. Tell us a little about yourself and why you'd like to serve — we'd love to hear from you. Jamul and Dulzura's future is shaped by the people who show up.

9/11 MEMORIAL STAIR CLIMB...

Our Mustache Brigade Was There!

Ever since the 9/11 San Diego Memorial Stair Climb began DV neighbors Sharon Gladding, Sandra Ignosci, and Susie Norton (AKA The Mustache Ladies) have given their time and energy to this very special event. NOTE: Our anonymous firefighter is on his knees!

THE MUSTACHE LADIES: L-R: Sharon Gladding, Kneeling Firefighter, Susie Norton, and Sandra Ignosci

The Memorial Stair Climb honors the 403 Emergency Responders who lost their lives that day in 2001. This year it also raised funds for the Firefighter Relief Society that supports fire families in need.

The DV Mustache Ladies cheered and encouraged nearly 1,000 climbers (many in full turnouts) who repeatedly scaled the 30-stories of the Bayside Hilton to match the 110 stories of the Twin Towers.

We are so Deerhorn Proud of the Mustache Ladies and all those they honored.

PITY THE POOR, WANDERING, MALE TARANTULA... Our Gentle Giants

Two different kinds of tarantulas call Deerhorn Valley home. But full disclosure—I can't tell the difference. They're just our Deerhorn Tarantulas.

September through November is Wandering Season for male tarantulas. I remember years when I'd see a dozen or more crossing Honey Springs, usually about dusk. They are always the males... vagabonds in search of love. Gentle Giants of the spider world, and a half of a tragic love-story.

Female tarantulas live 25-30 years. But, the much younger males are likely in the very last months of life when Wandering Season arrives.

In late summer the Poor Male Tarantula abandons the safety of his burrow, stops eating and wanders blindly across miles of harsh terrain... solely to find a mate. He must face the danger of Pepsis Wasps (AKA tarantula hawks) who can paralyze him with one sting, then use his motionless body to nourish her eggs and larva until they are adults. *

Once he locates a female, he'll politely knock at her door by tapping out a special rhythm on the webbing. If it's not impressive enough (or if the female is hungry), she may just rush out and eat him. If she IS impressed, they may couple, and her gentleman visitor must quickly drop to the ground before he becomes her dessert.

If he DOES survive his wedding day, a male tarantula will still waste away from starvation, freeze in the autumn cold, or succumb to old age within a few short months. He trades his entire life for a single chance to pass on his genes.

So the next time you spot our Poor Male Tarantula... take pity. He's not aggressive... a gentle nudge will usually move him along. And he only gets one chance to find the love of his life.

Lest you harbor bad thoughts about Pepsis Wasps, they are the major pollinator of native milkweed that sustains our Monarch Butterflies on their long yearly migration.*

RIP CAMERON DENNIS MESKER

Cameron was a kind and loving soul. He was giving and generous, funny, and many times-inappropriate. And those are all the reasons we loved him. He was honest about who he was and lived his life his way, never pretending to be someone he wasn't. Cameron was incredibly talented and creative, with a gift for turning ordinary spaces into something beautiful. His landscapes and water features can be found throughout San Diego, in homes, estates, and resorts including SeaWorld in San Diego and San Antonio, TX where his creativity and craftsmanship will continue to be enjoyed for years to come. Each one is a part of the mark he left behind — a lasting reminder of his talent, his imagination, and the unique way he saw the world. But beyond his work and his talents, we will remember Cameron for who he was. He left his mark on so many places, but more importantly, he left his mark on the people who knew and loved him. Cameron will be deeply missed and forever remembered.

Editors Note: The following is a reprint of Eric Grant's last article published in January 2014. It is still very relevant today.

Take it for Granted By Eric Grant

Through the years, I am sure you are aware, that I have been concerned by the creeping Marxist/Socialism changing the way of our government, as proclaimed in "we the people, by the people, for the people". I seek in this occasion to identify the wonderful words of President Kennedy when he addressed the Economic Club of New York in 1962. In my opinion he clearly identifies free enterprise and limited government as the basis of our success as a Nation. The following are highlights from that speech, which is available on line from the "American Rhetoric" online speech Bank.

"I am glad to have a chance to talk to you tonight about the advantages of the free enterprise system. Less than a month ago, this nation reminded the world that it possessed both the will and the weapons to meet any threat to the security of free men. The gains we have made will not be given up and the course that we have pursued will not be abandoned. But in the long run, that security will not be determined by military or diplomatic moves alone. It will be affected by the decisions of finance ministers, as well as by the decisions of Secretaries of State and Secretaries of Defense; by the deployment of fiscal and monetary weapons, as well as by military weapons; and above all, by the strength of this nation's economy, as well as by the strength of our defenses."

America's rise to world leadership in the century since the Civil War has reflected more than anything else our unprecedented economic growth...It demonstrated for all to see the power of freedom and the efficiency of free institutions. ...a prosperous and growing America is important not only to Americans, it is of vital importance to the entire Western World. In the last two years we have made significant strides. But, we must look beyond the next quarter, or the last quarter, or even the last two years. For we can and must do better, much better than we've been doing for the last five-and-a-half years.

There is no need for us to be satisfied with a rate of growth that keeps good men out of work and good capacity out of use.

The Economic Club of New York is, of course, familiar with these problems. For, in this state, the rate of insured unemployment has been persistently higher than the national average...and the increases in personal income and employment have been slower here than in the nation as a whole, particularly the young people... and I think this might be one of our most serious national problems, unemployed young people. ...This economy can and must do better. Our choice, boils down to one of: doing nothing, and thereby risking a widening gap between our actual and potential growth in output, profits, and employment - or taking action, at the federal level, to raise our entire economy to a new and higher level of business activity. If we do not take action...those who have the most reason to be dissatisfied with our present rate of growth will be tempted to see shortsighted and narrow solutions - to resist automation, to reduce the work week to 35 hours or even lower, to shut out imports, or to raise prices in a vain effort to obtain full capacity profits on under -capacity operations. But these are all self-defeating expedients which can only restrict the economy, not expand it.

There are a number of ways by which the federal government can meet its responsibilities to aid economic growth...But the most direct and significant kind of federal action aiding economic growth is to make possible an increase in private consumption and investment demand - to cut the fetters which hold back private spending. It could be done by increasing federal expenditures more rapidly...but if government is to retain the confidence of the people, it must not spend more than can be justified on grounds of national need or spent with maximum efficiency.

The final and best means of strengthening demand among consumers and business is to reduce the burden on private income and the deterrents to private initiative which are imposed by our present tax system - and this administration pledged itself last summer to an across-the-board, top-to-bottom cut in personal and corporate income taxes.

To increase demand and lift the economy, the federal government's most useful role is not to rush into a program of excessive increases in public expenditures, but to expand the incentives and opportunities for private expenditures."

President Kennedy, a democrat, is describing here, what I would consider, 50 years later, as the philosophy of the conservative Republican. The deterioration of our direction is self-evident today. You probably must read this again in order to fully understand the validity of his statements for the future of America.

MONTHLY JOURNAL OF
JAMUL-DULZURA UNION SCHOOL DISTRICT,

JDUSD

Hello JDUSD Community!

Can you believe it's already October? I'll admit—I've fully embraced all things pumpkin spice and am enjoying every moment of the season! Please, don't judge me!

Measure H – Local Funding for Our Schools

Jamul-Dulzura schools are aging and need basic repairs and upgrades to meet today's health and safety codes, current academic standards, and proper access for students with disabilities. Measure H, an $18 million school improvement bond measure, is on November 3, 2026, ballot. Measure H is projected to cost homeowners approximately $30 per $100,000 of a property's assessed value (not market value), annually, while bonds are outstanding. It is projected that Measure H will not increase the current tax rate homeowners are already paying in JDUSD.

Anticipated improvements to our aging facilities include repairing or replacing leaky roofs across multiple buildings, upgrading our security systems, including PA systems, school phones, fire alarms, and security cameras, and updating classrooms to support high-quality instruction in math, science, technology, reading, and writing. Updates to classrooms and school facilities could help ensure that all JDUSD students can build strong foundations for academic success.

Learning, Creating & Shining at Jamul Elementary!

There are so many wonderful things happening at Jamul Elementary School!

Our students recently completed their iReady assessments, providing teachers with valuable information about each student's academic strengths and areas for continued growth. Teachers use this information to thoughtfully plan and differentiate instruction, meeting students where they are while challenging them to grow. Assessment is not just about a score—it helps us understand what our students need next so we can provide meaningful instruction and support their continued success.

We are also excited to share that auditions for Beetlejuice Jr. were a huge success! So many talented students came out to audition, and we were incredibly proud of the courage, enthusiasm, and talent they displayed. We cannot wait to watch the production come together and share it with our families and community. Keep an eye on the Shopper for ticket information because... it's SHOWTIME! Performances will take place on December 10 and 11 at 6:00 p.m.

Our classrooms have also been busy with hands-on learning! Our third-grade students have been working together on a Project-Based Learning (PBL) project, applying what they are learning in the classroom to meaningful, real-world experiences. Students collaborate, solve problems, share ideas, make decisions, and learn from one another as they work toward a common goal.

Through PBL, students aren't simply learning information for a test, they are actively using their knowledge to create something meaningful. Along the way, they deepen their understanding while developing important skills such as communication, teamwork, creativity, and perseverance.

Mark your calendars for one of our favorite traditions! Join us at Jamul Elementary on Friday, October 30, from 5:00–7:00 p.m. for an evening of family fun, games, food, and festive activities. It's always a howling good time, and we hope to see everyone there! From using assessment data to guide instruction, to performing on stage, to collaborating on meaningful projects, our students continue to learn and grow in so many ways. We are proud to provide opportunities for them to discover their strengths, challenge themselves, and shine!

And remember—it's never too late to join #TeamJamul! If you know a family interested in learning more about our school, we'd love to welcome them. Simply call the school office to schedule a tour and discover what makes Jamul Elementary an exceptional place for students to thrive.

the JDUSD Learning Center.

This year, our theme and hashtag continue to be #JDUSDhasHEART. We are striving to bring heart into everything we do—from teaching and learning to communication and professional development, to food preparation and yard supervision. As the year continues, I hope you are feeling the love we have for your child, for you, and for each other as a staff.

Parents, please help us keep our facilities nice and your children safe. Throughout the summer and into last month, we have repeatedly had students on e-bikes (dirt bike style) riding dangerously in the parking lots, Little League Fields and on the OGMS basketball courts and field. This is a liability for you and destroys our facilities for the greater community. Please reinforce with your children that they may not ride on school campuses. Thank you.

I look forward to seeing you at the Kiwanis Parade on the 11th!
With heart,

Liz Bystedt
Superintendent

Jamul Preschool is off to a joyful start! Our preschoolers are happy, thriving, and filling the campus with laughter. If you're in need of AM/PM or full-day preschool, we'd love to welcome your child. You can sign up on our website or contact Ms. Erin at 619-669-7771. We are competitively priced and currently have openings available.

Learning in Action: OGMS Students Make Connections!

In Science, students are using mathematical data to design models that demonstrate the motion of a satellite, including its altitude and velocity. Through this hands-on activity, students are not only applying their scientific knowledge but also putting their creativity, critical thinking, problem-solving skills, and artistic talents to work. It is exciting to see science and mathematics come together in such an engaging way!

In Mathematics, our students are putting equations into action! Students are working together to write equations that represent relationships and model a real-world situation—determining the side length of each of eight flower beds in a parking lot. Along the way, they are strengthening their mathematical reasoning, collaborating with classmates, solving problems, and discovering how the concepts they learn in the classroom connect to the world around them.

These learning experiences are wonderful examples of our students thinking, creating, collaborating, and challenging themselves every day. We love seeing their curiosity and confidence grow as they put their knowledge into action. Our students are amazing, and we are so proud of the great learning happening at OGMS!

Learning Beyond the Classroom: GSDA Adventures Begin!

Greater San Diego Academy is off to a great start! Students have already been busy learning both on campus and out in the community. Field trips to Nature's Law for Water & River Bugs, Bates Nut Farm, and GemKids have provided opportunities for hands-on exploration and learning. Students also welcomed presenters from I Love A Clean San Diego to learn more about caring for our environment. Back on campus, enrichment classes are underway, with students making new friends, exploring new interests, and getting their hands dirty planting in the school garden. It has been a wonderful start to a year filled with learning, connection, and adventure!

MEASURE H REPAIRS JAMUL-DULZURA SCHOOLS WITHOUT INCREASING TAXES

Some classrooms in Jamul-Dulzura schools were built so long ago that underground pipes and infrastructure are failing, resulting in gas leaks, water leaks, and sewage backups. Out of 61 roofs across our schools, 58 are leaking and need replacement. Measure H will help fix these problems.

VOTE YES ON H TO:

 Replace wood and support beams that have extensive termite damage and dry rot

Renovate classrooms to support high-quality instruction in math, science, reading, writing, and technology

Replace deteriorating roofs, plumbing, gas lines, sewer lines, and electrical systems

Improve student safety and campus security systems, including fencing, cameras, fire alarms, smoke detectors, and emergency communication systems

Memories of Jamul

By Dave Beekman

Jamul Vol Fire Dept Strike team deployed to Woman's Honor Camp

In light of the devastating fires' aftermath in Los Angeles and Altadena. The following story has some real relevance. Like history repeating itself.

Strike Teams are called for and deployed when the Local Fire Departments need specific help like structure protection and the local folks do not have all the resources they need.

This time, the call came in from the area of Warner Springs up on state highway 79 near Lake Henshaw. Seems there was a growing brush fire in the area of Mataguay Boy Scout Camp and some Hollywood celebrity's ranch was in danger thereby making it a 'priority' situation.

To make matters more interesting, the staging area was to be the Woman's Honor camp for 'minimum risk gals' called Puerta La Cruz. They had a large field near the woman's barracks that could accommodate the dozens of fire engines and other apparatus plus a helicopter pad for deploying the "Strike" folks.

Since these 'Strike Team' deployments may cover several days and nights the area was set up with outdoor wash stations, porta potties and a mess line with picnic tables just outside the fence line of the Woman's Barracks.

Jamul volunteers were to deploy one structure engine and a crew to man it with no promise as to when we would be coming home. As I remember (1988 is a getting a little fuzzy now) my wife dropped me off at the main station, where the Jamul Casino now sits, around 11:00 pm and the drive up to Puerta La Cruz took about two hours.

When We got there the camp was dark and we could only see the porch light on the woman's barracks so we lined up with fire trucks from El Centro, Brawley, Escondido and some places I had never heard of. We had all brought sleeping bags and shaving kits not knowing when we would be returning home. Since there was only four of us, we set out to find a comfortable place to lay out our sleeping bags while not waking up the rest of the camp. Being wary of snakes, I chose to sleep in the hose bed atop the truck. During the night I did hear some loud voices, male and female and occasionally a light came on in the woman's barracks but I think they had 'posted a guard' to make sure no 'adventurous' fire fighters got too close. I'll leave that up to your imagination.

During the night we could see a 'glow in the sky' off to the South which must have been the fire. It did not seem to be growing so I slept the rest of the night. By and by the sun came up and we could still see smoke off to the South but no orders came to 'launch' so we set about doing our 'chores' and getting in line for breakfast. The line was 'long' and it was in this line we first got a glimpse of the 'Girls' as they were all dressed up in yellow jump suits, hair all done up, fresh makeup and nails; all together in their own line with a guard to make sure we fire fighters did not get too close or engage in conversation. These girls were 'on a mission' as you will see at the end of this story.

I will never forget that BREAKFAST! Steak and eggs to order. That darn steak actually drooped off both sides of my plate! Hash browns, toast and jam... WOW! So after breakfast we set out to clean up our truck, check hoses and water to make sure we were ready to go on a moment's notice if the 'celebrity's' ranch was in danger. Then we sat on the bumpers and running boards to wait our turn to go.

Turns out we did not go anywhere. In comes this Huey Helicopter, not a modern one like we have now, but a WWII model. Lots of dust, lots and smoke. When the rotors stopped here came the 'Girls' still looking great with their safety gear strapped on now and ready to do a Man's Job. Off they went in a cloud of dust and we just sat with our trucks the rest of the day.

When evening came we were there to see the girls deplane and head for the showers and a much deserved rest. Their yellow jumpsuits all covered in soot. No cat calls this time. Just applause for a job well done. Mission Accomplished. That's my story and I'm Stick'n to it. Dave Beekman, Jamul Volunteer Fire Dept
