

CELEBRATION OF FLAG DAY - JUNE 14TH

NATIONAL ANTHEM

*O say can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there;
O say does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.*

While Val and Paul were on their recent Alaska trip they stopped in Astoria, Oregon and took this beautiful picture.

Shown to right: The Maritime Memorial Flag and the Columbia Mechler Road Bridge over the massive Columbia River.

DEERHORN VALLEY ANTLER

by Kim Hamilton ~ Lover of All Things Deerhorn

CRITTER TIME IS HERE... (PESTS INCLUDED!)

Funny how we tend to forget the summer critters while we complain about winter weather— especially this year with the seemingly non-stop rain. Check out our total Seems like we went from muddy muck to waist high grass overnight. And... warm weather critters are arriving right on schedule. This should be a bumper year for rodents and snakes with all the grass and seed.

ROD McKINLEY'S YEARLY RAIN TOTAL
29.51 IN

SNAKES: We love most snakes and have a lot of varieties. Luckily the only ones to worry about safety-wise are rattlesnakes— and they're easily identifiable. Just look at the head and tail.

BABY BUTTON

FULL RATTLE

Rattlers have BIG heads...because those jaws are where they keep their poison sacs. They have rattles, even baby rattlers have a "button"— the start of their first rattle section. Another rattle develops every time they shed. The ends rattles may break off, but there's always a section or more left. If the tail comes to a nice smooth point, no problem. Otherwise steer clear.

SQUIRRELS & RODENTS: Warmer weather means ground squirrels get to making big families. They'll come in droves to feed at bird feeders or pet stations. Moving those helps a lot.

TRAP & DO NOT USE RAT POISONS: A single feeding of rodenticide is lethal for a squirrel, but it takes up to a week for the squirrel to die.

While they're slowly (and painfully) dying, they continue to feed and become super saturated with poison. Prey animals that eat them will also be poisoned: hawks, owls, bobcats, even family pets. We live in the country, and sometimes have to do some unpleasant things. The only way to way to control rodent invasions—without harming other wildlife—is trapping. Squirrel•N•Atr traps are especially effective. They are live-traps that come with a "dunking tray." Snap traps are best for rats and mice. I like the easy-set plastic snap traps and use peanut butter as bait.

YELLOWJACKETS: Wasps, especially Yellowjackets, can make life miserable. Start with wasp traps. They really do work. However, if you can find their nest, they make a special wasp control spray that will foam into the nest and wipe it out. Do this at night and with great caution. I've been a beekeeper most of my life and been stung hundreds of times, I still think Yellowjacket stings are the worst.

The reusable kind of wasp traps are best (mine are probably 10 years old). The commercial bait that comes with them works well— and so does a scoop of dog or cat food. Anything the little boogers would normally go for. Find the right spot to hang the trap and you'll probably fill it multiple times. Just a few feet can make a difference in whether they'll come, so be persistent. Hang it where you see them and adjust as needed.

ANTS: Until last year I'd always had luck mixing borax with sugar and some water. I'd leave the dissolved solution anywhere they'd come to scout... for three days. By then they'd taken it back to their nest, and no more ants.

Then came last year when the teeny-tiny black and reddish ants arrived in droves. I dutifully made up my borax solution— with only minimal success. I could kill them on contact with about any kitchen cleaner, but wiping out the nest is the final answer. So this is another year, and we'll see how it goes.

DEERHORN VALLEY COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION...

The DVCA meets monthly on the third Tuesday. An optional potluck lunch precedes each meeting and DVCA is always open to new ideas and participation. They're a truly great group of neighbors and friends. Here's a recap of the May 16th meeting held at President Susie Norton's home.

FIRESAFE COUNCIL: Deerhorn is now part of the expanded Rural San Diego Fire Safe Council that has applied for a Calfire one-million$ grant that would include clearing 250 miles of roads (60% private). DV residents mostly live along private easements and have been grading dirt roads like Mother Grundy for years on their own. This has left sunken roadways at risk of flooding and deterioration due to the lost dirt and rock. If funding is granted it may be used to add material and restore road height (and safety) to our major dirt roads.

FIRE GRANTS: Work paid for by the Sunrise Powerlink Grants ($2500/household) must be completed by August 4th. If you did NOT apply/receive this year's grant for Defensible Space or Structure Hardening, you can still apply for a Priority Vents Grant through August 11. Remember: Embers are the most common cause of homes lost to wildfire. The $2500 amount will cover both vents and installation for most homes. Details: SunrisePowerlinkGrants.com

YARD SALE PLANS were deferred until next year. There was just not enough interest to make it worthwhile (A lot of time and effort go into planning these events).

However, plans are in full force for another successful and fun Fourth of July Parade and Picnic. Meal tickets are just $4 and water, popcorn, and raffle tickets are provided free to all. We just love marching in our own Parade!

THANK YOU, DVCA, for all your work to create a safe, interconnected, and vibrant community where all are welcome.

FUN WITH HORSES

By Jean Strouf

JAMUL RANGELAND

Why did the cows cross the road?

It all started as a 4H project. By the way, what happened to Jamul/Dulzura's 4H Club? I loved supporting them and buying a lamb or pig (not alive, of course) from them.

John Austel has an Animal Science degree and 3 sons, now adults, that were kept out of trouble as teens by raising animals as their 4H projects. The boys were fascinated by photos in the family home showing John as a Cowboy when he was young. They had a regular clientele of friends to buy shares of the "stockers", and dreamed of being ranchers & cowboys, too. John and Liz were adamant, that if their boys really wanted to raise cattle for beef year-round, they needed to study the bloodlines, keep the herd hormone free, and make sure the feed was pesticide free. Do it Right, or don't do it. At that time, they were living on Proctor Valley Road and keeping the cattle at the Ivanhoe Ranch.

Some background on Hollenbeck Canyon Wildlife area and Rancho Jamul Ecological Reserve: These areas, now owned by California Department of Fish & Wildlife, were grazed by cattle for 150 years, mostly by the Daley Family. The original intent of CDFW was to rehabilitate the land and restore many of the native species. Unfortunately, once the cattle were no longer grazing, non-native grasses and species took over; not a desired result. Highly flammable grasses became the norm. Tracie Nelson, Manager of the RJER at the time, looked for solutions, including attempting to plant sectioned-off areas to attract specific birds and butterflies. The projects became too labor intensive.

John needed to move his cattle from the Ivanhoe Ranch. He met with Tracie Nelson, CDFW Officials, USDA, NRCS and a group called the Rangeland Management Advisory Committee (who advises the Board of Forestry, the final decision maker) and came up with an agreement to try cattle grazing on a small section of the RJER. This area had been a Burrowing Owl Habitat, but they slowly disappeared after the cattle were gone. Non-native plants and grasses had moved in, and the ground squirrels & other burrowing critters moved out. Time to bring in the Cows, which he did. The cattle foraged on the non-native thatch, trampled organic matter into the soils, and quickly restored advantageous habitat for burrowing critters. The San Diego Zoo developed a "Head Start" program with some Burrowing Owls given them from another part of the County where they'd lost their habitat. Tracie acquired 18 owls in 2017. Within 1 year, there were over 100. This helped convince State Officials that "managed grazing" was a viable option. And John increased his herd.

How does it work? The Austels get paid nearly 75% of hard costs for prescribed targeted grazing. This is a regenerative, science-based, sustainable program, so it means John keeps daily track of where his 2 herds of Cow-Calfs and Yearlings are and how much is being grazed. Soil quality and endangered species are tracked by engineers from the Resource Conservation District and the California Department of Food and Agriculture. Each geographically different section of the two properties must be treated uniquely, depending on its environmental makeup.

Why should you care? Jamulians main benefit to targeted grazing is Wildfire Fuel Reduction. Cal Fire is onboard with this project. Car fires are the greatest wildfire risk along SR 94, so the first place the herds graze is along the highway. This corridor also helps fire-fighters access fires. Targeted grazing is safer, more economical and healthier for the environment than controlled burns. January, 1997, I called 911 to report an unattended fire the size of a garage at 9:30PM on the far east end of Hollenbeck Canyon. Santa Ana winds were blowing. This was supposed to be a "controlled burn" and it nearly destroyed homes in the Harper Ranch area and burned to the very edge of Rancho Jamul Estates. Targeted grazing would have made stopping this wildfire easier.

John and Liz now have 21 paddocks to rotate between the herds, on both sides of SR 94. Every month or two when the thatch density and grass height dictates, Liz, John and their sons get to play Cowboys moving cattle while on horseback, the old-fashioned Cowboy way. This occasionally includes moving a herd from Rancho Jamul Ecological Reserve to Hollenbeck right across SR 94! They do have traffic control with stop signs and safety vests to modernize the process. And when you see them, you'll know just why the cows cross the road!

From the Desk of Ms. Robinson - JES Principal

Hello Team Jamul! It's been another exciting month at Jamul Elementary! Our awesome 5th graders went to the Birch Aquarium and our wonderful TK and Kinder students went to the World Famous San Diego Zoo! We had so many wonderful parents who got to come along and help with supervision and spend a wonderful time learning with students! Open House was held in May and we had such a great turn out! Our Girls on the Run Team went to the fire station to give thanks to the firefighters for all they do. Our team was surprised with getting a tour of the fire station! We also had two really cool students who served important roles at our school; Gavin a kinder student was Principal for a day and Catelyn a fourth grade student was Secretary for a day. They did an amazing job! All of our on campus events have been well attended and we are so glad to see so many friendly faces of parents and families. Working with your children is our joy and we are so happy to see you in person!

From the Desk of Dr. Salas - OGMS Principal

Congratulations to our Students of the Month. We are proud of the students shown to left for demonstrating initiative, responsibility, and courage to take a lead role in our school. They are, in photo left to right, Alex Nungaray (8th), Eduardo Tovar (8th), Silvia De Herrera (7th), Jacob Rose (7th), Damian Muñoz (6th) and Sophia Hinojosa (6th).

Please join me in congratulating Leonardo

Amir Macedo Cardoza (picture on right) on receiving the Sunrise Award sponsored by the East County School Leadership Charter Region 18 on April 20. It was an honor to present this award to Amir. This award is in recognition of him rising to the challenges and continuing to push himself to give his very best each day and be determined to succeed! We wish all our 8th grade students much success in high school and beyond.

From the Desk of Ms. D'Augusta - GSDA Assistant Director

On April 25th, Greater San Diego Academy got to watch our garden grow a bit more. We want to thank our local partners, The Water Conservation Garden for coordinating a Tree Planting Day on campus, and Wheelhouse Credit Union for the generous donation of three fruit trees. Students had a great experience digging the holes for the trees, placing the trees, covering them with dirt, and giving them their first watering. Everyone is excited to see our pomegranate, fig, and orange trees grow and thrive.

This event was also an opportunity for our students, staff, and guests to use our new outdoor classroom. The outdoor classroom is a three-part project to be completed by three local Boy Scouts as their Eagle Scout projects. Steele Canyon senior and former JDUSD student, Enzo D'Augusta, has already completed the seating portion of the outdoor classroom. Steele Canyon senior and former GSDA student, Noah Strailey, will be managing the ground cover and beautification of the area. And Valhalla senior Todd Bartholome, will be installing shade coverings for the seated area. These three boys are all members of Troop 362, representing the Rancho San Diego and Jamul areas. We are grateful to all of our community contributors for helping our garden grow!

THE ECHO VALLEY FIRE 1986 OR 87

I had no more than been issued my 'Turnouts' and attended a few Thursday trainings when I had my first Wild land Brush fire experience... My family and I had been attending a wedding down in Balboa Park and on the way home around 3 Pm noticed smoke coming from the area of Millar Ranch road on the north side of Mt. Miguel.

My County pager had gone off indicating a fire in Echo Valley, Proctor Valley Rd....As we got closer to Jamul the fire appeared to be crossing over to the land to the east of Mt Miguel...

By and by we got to the staging area at the Jamul Liquor store parking lot at 94 and Jefferson where volunteers were loading up on our 'hand me down' apparatus..

I saw my engine waiting for crew and jumped out of my truck with my turnouts leaving wife and then baby Mike to go home and wait for a call to come get me... turns out that call would be around midnight when the fire had moved on to devour 6,000 acres of the Daly Ranch.

In those days 'rookies' like me, rode on the back tailboard of the fire engine... We had a safety strap to hold us on but we still held on with both hands to a cross bar on the hose bed as the engine made it way down Proctor Valley road to the site of the fire...The Echo Valley community consisted of about a dozen ranch style homes on about 3-5 acres each with a lot of horse corrals and out buildings... The fire was 'towering' above the homes in the brushy area to the west of Echo Valley.

Our mission was to let the fire 'blow through' then put out roof and eve fires as they occurred. We did not have water enough to 'wet down' anyone's house or outbuildings. An adobe home with a red tile roof was one of the first to go... they had had plants and bushes growing right under the eaves and when the bushes caught fire, the overhanging eaves and roof caught fire as well..

When we got there the tile roof had just fallen to the floor below and the house was a total loss but for the adobe walls still standing.

One fact I do remember vividly was that those homes that had Rainbird sprinklers on the roof and ample wild land clearance, (no bushes) around the perimeter, did not suffer any damage...

We put out many 'eve' fires that afternoon and most homes were saved... not so with out-buildings though... Many out-buildings were lost as were many animals stuck in their pens as the fire blew through... a sad day to be sure. There was no way to stop or even slow down that fire with the equipment we had... I never saw an 'Air Tanker' or water dropping helicopter like you see today as a first responder... we just had to let it blow through and put out spot fires as we could.

Along about midnight the last 'eve' fires had been put out and we headed back to for the staging area to go home or be picked up by our families... The message here is:... Be Prepared... Clear your brush while it is green... Have an evacuation plan for your family with a pre- arranged place to meet in case you cannot go home.... Pack a 'Go Bag' with important papers, photos and medication... Be alert.... Listen to news reports... Register your cell phones for Emergency Alerts... and heed Official warnings to evacuate....

That's my story and I'm stick'n to it...
Dave Beekman, JVFD

MEET ANDREW HAYES, CANDIDATE FOR CALIFORNIA'S 75 ASSEMBLY DISTRICT - By Janet Mulder

Andrew Hayes is a life-long resident of East County San Diego, who attended the University of San Diego. He has gained a lot of experience in his young life, always working for the good of the people he represents. In 2014 Andrew Hayes joined the legislative office of then California State Senator Joel Anderson and in December of 2018, Hayes joined the legislative office of California State Senate Minority Leader Brian Jones, where he currently serves as his District Director. Andrew, who is always a good listener is keenly aware of the importance of listening to the people of the District when he is advising our Senator. In addition, he has been an effective elected member of the Lakeside School Board of Trustees where he currently serves as the Board President and, as a testimony to his excellent job, just won re-election to his second term. It is important to note that while on the Board, Hayes has fought for parental rights and local control, defeated a 66 million dollar tax increase proposal, and worked to develop a workforce curriculum for students in the district. As further testimony of his community commitment, he is also a proud member of the Santee-Lakeside Rotary Club, Lakeside Kiwanis, Lakeside Historical Society, and Lakeside Friends of the Library.

Having worked with Andrew Hayes in several public forums, I can testify to his ability to speak for the people, to listen to their concerns, to articulately defend what is right, and to follow through working for their best interests. Perhaps this is best seen at his testimony that occurred when the Re-Districting Committee was meeting and it looked like they were going to put our Jamul area in a district together with El Cajon. The proposal would put our rural area in an Assembly District that also would include a very populated part of Southeast San Diego! Andrew Hayes gave a strong message on our behalf urging the Re-Districting Committee to recognize the importance of keeping rural areas together. He proposed a District to include Jamul with Alpine, Blossom Valley, Ramona, Lakeside, all the way to Poway and that is how we came to be in Assembly District 75 instead of being lumped in with a much more metropolitan areas with which we had so little in common! Many of us testified on behalf of keeping Jamul rural, but none stronger nor more effective than Andrew Hayes, who is now running for our District 75 Seat in the Legislative Assembly and for whom we would urge your vote! He knows us, understands us, and sticks up for us!!!

On Sunday afternoon, June 25, an opportunity for you to "Meet and Greet" Andrew Hayes, right here in Jamul will be available. For more information, please contact Janet Mulder, Marcia Spurgeon or Patty Terry or email Janet at <jmulder02@gmail.com>. Hope you will take this opportunity to get to know Andrew Hayes as we feel certain you will be as impressed by him as we are!

Update

From: Stop Cottonwood Sand Mine Organization

The County contact person who is handling communication regarding the Cottonwood Sand Mine application process is Ashley Smith, Chief of Project Planning at the County's Planning Services Department. She can be reached at Ashley.Smith@sdcounty.ca.gov.

San Diego County and the Applicant are finalizing the review and revisions to the Environmental Impact Report (EIR). The revised sections of the EIR will go out for Public Review. This may occur as early as May 2023. The County staff will hold an in-person public meeting to describe the EIR changes. We will inform everyone regarding the date, time, and location of the public meeting as soon as we know it.

If you have specific complaints regarding activities occurring at the Cottonwood Golf Club property that you think may be County code violations, you can submit these complaints online or schedule a call to discuss the complaints with the County of San Diego Code Compliance Division.

Anderson Alert from San Diego County Supervisor, Joel Anderson

Dear Friends,

With temperatures beginning to heat up and students heading into summer break, my office compiled a list of free and family-friendly summer events happening across San Diego County! Events happening this summer include free concerts, parades, movies in the park, car shows, festivals, and a plethora of fireworks shows and 4th of July celebrations!

Take a look and enjoy some of the things our communities have to offer this summer.

View the list at supervisorjoelanderson.com/summer-events.

This list is not exhaustive, and if we accidentally missed your local event, we'd love to include it— as long as it's free and open to the public. Please contact my office, and we'd be happy to add it to the list.

It's my job to make County government work for you. If there is any way my office can ever be of assistance to you, please do not hesitate to reach out. For the fastest response, use the contact form on my website at supervisorjoelanderson.com/contact or call (619) 441-4327.

As always, it's an honor to serve you.
Sincerely, Supervisor Joel Anderson
