

Posted 6/18/21

You literally can not make this stuff up.

1 year ago today Barbara posted about Jett. How much he suffered at the hands of "greedy humans." How much attention he brought his "rescue." How many donations he brought in. How he was forgotten and abandoned in boarding and nobody cared...

How Doggedly Dog Rescue Society, the saviors of the world, took in "126" dogs who had been boarded/hoarded, neglected, and forgotten about... (which we know from a previous post less than 50 of those dogs actually came from the DogTown eviction... Some had been with Barbara as long as 2015 before she even knew Jessica Russell.)

Guess where Jett is now?

The SAME boarding facility Barb claims he was dumped in by ACTB.

Suffering from the SAME medical issues.

One year later.

We're supposed to believe he's had the "best vet care, specialist care and treatments imaginable" - but we're supposed to just take that statement at face value. No receipts. No vet records. Just shut up and believe it.

Actions speak louder than Barbara's self serving words.

Where is Jett? How is he doing? Can we see a photo of him? Can we see his vet records? Can we see the invoices? This is a public charity that takes tax deductible donations after all...

Nope. We just have to trust the least transparent rescue and human being I've ever had the misfortune of associating with.

When will this end? When people stop being quiet about it.

Is Jett even still alive? Or is it possible he suffered the same fate as Hoss and Porkchop? They died alone in a boarding facility. Found dead by the staff. Medically fragile dogs that never should have been in boarding to begin with. Only to be quietly cremated, and never spoken about again.

When I asked about humanely euthanizing Jett to release him from his suffering I was told that was "out of the question."

Humane euthanasia is out of the question.

Rotting in a boarding facility to slowly deteriorate, suffer, and die... That's still on the table.

CLICK LINK BELOW TO SEE ORIGINAL POST

Facebook Post

 Ashley Alden is with Carla Mancilla and 2 others.
Jun 18 · 🌐

You literally can not make this stuff up.

1 year ago today Barbara posted about Jett. How much he suffered at the hands of "greedy humans." How much attention he brought his "rescue." How many donations he brought in. How he was forgotten and abandoned in boarding and nobody cared...

How Doggedly Dog Rescue Society, the saviors of the world, took in "126" dogs who had been boarded/hoarded, neglected, and forgotten about... (which we know from a previous post less than 50 of those dogs actually came from the DogTown eviction... Some had been with Barbara as long as 2015 before she even knew Jessica Russell.)

Guess where Jett is now?

The SAME boarding facility Barb claims he was dumped in by ACTB.

Suffering from the SAME medical issues.

One year later.

< Ashley's Post ...

We're supposed to believe he's had the "best vet care, specialist care and treatments imaginable" - but we're supposed to just take that statement at face value. No receipts. No vet records. Just shut up and believe it.

Actions speak louder than Barbara's self serving words.

Where is Jett? How is he doing? Can we see a photo of him? Can we see his vet records? Can we see the invoices? This is a public charity that takes tax deductible donations after all...

Nope. We just have to trust the least transparent rescue and human being I've ever had the misfortune of associating with.

When will this end? When people stop being quiet about it.

Is Jett even still alive? Or is it possible he suffered the same fate as Hoss and Porkchop? They died alone in a boarding facility. Found dead by the staff. Medically fragile dogs that never should have been in boarding to begin with. Only to be quietly cremated, and never spoken about again.

When I asked about humanely euthanizing Jett to release him from his suffering I was told that was < Ashley's Post ...

When I asked about humanely euthanizing Jett to release him from his suffering I was told that was "out of the question."

Humane euthanasia is out of the question.

Rotting in a boarding facility to slowly deteriorate, suffer, and die... That's still on the table.

#RIPPorkchop
#RIPHoss
#WhereisJett
#WhereisKarma
#WhereareBennyandJune
#WhereisElvis
#doggedlydogrescuesociety
#AChanceToBloomDogRescue
#barbararoxanne
#barbarazuluaga
#scamrescue
#doghoarding
Rescue Watch Guard Dog USA Exposing: Pet Flippers/Bad Rescues/Abusers/Breeders, etc. Guardians of Rescue

 Barbara Zuluaga is with Ashley Clifford and 3 others.
Jun 18, 2020 · 🌐

My heart hurts for Jett today. I can't hold back any longer and need to vent.

We've been working hard to get this boy healthy since September 2019, when we pulled him from boarding under the care of A Chance to Bloom. Jett was formerly Chinba, pulled him from Harris County Animal Shelter in 2017, with a couple thousand dollars in donations backing his medical care from a networking page.

Jett suffered so much for human greed. Instead of Jett receiving immediate medical care after being pulled by a rescue, he spent nearly 3 years suffering as his horrible skin condition deteriorated and became chronic. Jett has been in a medical foster for over 9 months, trying to recover from what was done to him by his previous "rescue". 9 months of the best vet care and specialists, every treatment imaginable. This is a photo of him just this morning after having a drain inserted into his head to drain a recurrent abscess.

No one cares about Jett. In fact, when this rescue closed, we formed Doggedly Dog Rescue Society just to help the 126 dogs who were left in limbo with very little financial support and tons of medical needs. Not only dogs were hurt, but good honest people, donors, adopters, volunteers - a very wide spectrum of people were burnt and taken advantage of. Even other rescues were ripped off (remember Louie, the dog who died of a heart tumor and ripped off to the tune of $7,000+ by ACTB?).

The truth is, that this happens so often, people don't even talk about it anymore. I've had people say things to me like "Why do you even bother helping those dogs? It's not your responsibility." "Why even post about it? Everyone has forgotten about those dogs and what happened with that rescue."

Well it's not over for us... And that response speaks volumes about our community and Texas rescues in general, where this type of thing continuously happens. The last few months, we have spent building our new organization to do transport adoptions to get these dogs out of this nightmare that is Texas, where most of them have been overlooked for YEARS.

So many people find it excusable that the president of this rescue thought it was ok to spend Jett's medical money and thousands more, on fast food, clothing, makeup, alcohol and vacations. So many people defended her, chose to ride the fence or take sides, citing that they "don't know the whole story".

If this image taken of Jett this morning doesn't give you all the information you need to know to understand that stealing from animals that you are meant to defend is actually sentencing them to a life of suffering, then please do me a favor and delete me. Don't ask me for favors. Don't ask me to help your dog that was stifled, or any dog, for that matter. If you don't care about what happens to dogs like Jett, then we have nothing to talk about.

I've been quiet for months, focused on finding homes for so many of the dogs that got screwed over by this rescue, with barely any donations or support, feeling completely alienated from the rescue community from those who are all about making money off of rescue, and those who are truly in it for the dogs. If you skimp on vet care to line your pockets, you need to be exposed.

You'd be surprised how many people out there know of people internally stealing from nonprofits they are part of, and decide to stay quiet to "save face".

We will never stop fighting for them. Even when others try to knock down our efforts by saying our dogs have "no happy ending" because some of the Jett deserves so much better. Life just isn't fair. Jett was pulled by an irresponsible scam "rescue" in 2017 that hoarded him for money and never took care of his raging skin infection, which accounts for his permanently scarred skin and missing hair. This dog is not conventionally "beautiful" on the outside, but his life is worth saving. Jett has such an amazingly loyal and loving spirit, even after what he has been through due to human greed. Humans just don't deserve dogs.

We have spent so much time and effort trying to make things right for Jett. This dog truly deserves a happy ending and we were really hoping that he would be healthy enough to find a forever home.

This news has left us completely devastated. We were really rooting for this boy. We aren't giving up just yet. Biopsy results will come in 7-10 days. Until then, please keep praying that it's not too late for Jett.

worst cases need to be in boarding, due to shortages of fosters for behavioral pit bulls, we'll keep going. Even if we have to spend every last cent out of our pockets to make things right for the dogs, we'll keep going. While it might be easy for some keyboard warrior to sit back silently and judge our efforts from Facebook, you know where to find us; out there doing the real work to save lives.

I said it once, and I'll say it again...

If you see fraud, and you do not say fraud, you are a fraud. Compromising is condoning.

*Donate towards Jett's Medical: paypal.me/doggedly

Someone was happy to see me today 😊

Jett was sent back to in Boarding by Doggedly in 2021