Are ports prepared to deal with threats from hackers?

Port authorities and shipping companies to report issues was Maersk, the world's largest cargo shipping company. The cyber-attack on the Port of Barcelona did not affect ship operations. September 25, by the Port of San Diego, in the United States. Port authorities around the attacks, such as data breaches, where intruders' main goal is to stay undetected by leaving systems affected, but did not offer other details, even after a week's worth of requests. The cyber-attack on the Port of Barcelona did not affect ship operations.

spokesperson said. "We can con...