Our Rich History

Hi, my name is Ellen, and I am the founder of Divine Buzz. I am glad that you have join Divine Buzz youth club. I want you to know we are here to support you to have fun while learning to achieve your potential. Over the years, our dedicated team has worked tirelessly on numerous funded and non-funded projects to ensure there are always something for the children and young people to do. Throughout this journey, we've faced both highs and lows, particularly during times when funding was scarce. These experiences have equipped us with invaluable skills and knowledge.

We have become adept at budgeting and making the most of limited resources. Our approach is collaborative, involving participants in our projects to maximize impact. Our team is composed of individuals with excellent interpersonal skills; we are outgoing, effective communicators who connect well with the general public. Our creativity shines through in our problem-solving abilities. Above all, we are welcoming and accepting, treating everyone with dignity and respect regardless of race, gender, age, religion, or sexual orientation.

As the founder and a community member, I have a personal stake in our programs. My own experiences with isolation, loneliness, discrimination, and limited opportunities for community engagement have fuelled my passion for this work. I believe strongly in the importance of early community interventions for children, as there are currently few opportunities for them to engage in activities outside of the school curriculum.

In forming Divine Buzz, I reached out to a group of remarkable community leaders who shared my vision and were eager to join me in making a difference. Our team members bring a wealth of diverse experiences, including:

- A Multisport Coach
- A Community Researcher
- A Health Visitor
- An Equality and Diversity Officer
- A Stay-at-Home Mother
- A Financial Planner
- A Children's Home Manager
- A Radiographer
- A Community Nurse

These varied backgrounds have enriched our approach and strengthened our ability to serve our community effectively. Together, we are committed to addressing the challenges our community faces and creating meaningful opportunities for engagement and growth.
