

Adam's Song

[Joe Vermeulen]

First breath – breathing life
First time I'd o-pen my eyes
I see – such beauty set – before me

Sunlight dancing through the trees
Up I look – blue I see
The skies – stretching out above me

Awe and wonder fills my heart
I can feel a gentle breeze
I hear a voice call to me

My name – I'm sure that's my name
Adam – from the ground I came

Chorus:

Then I looked into my Father's eyes
"So very good" – He said of my life
But oh – most precious would I find
The moment that He smiled at me
And He said; – "My son"

In the garden – full of life
Rivers splashing – streams alive
Crabs and fish – Whoah! – I'll call you hippopotamus

Birds are flut-te-ring around
Singing with a chirping sound
Up high – I'm calling you an eagle

Awe and wonder fills my heart
Joy to see the world a-live
Pairs of creatures roam around

But where – is the one for me
Longing – where – is she?

Chorus 2:

Then I looked into my Father's eyes
And I knew – all would be alright
Willingly_ the deepest sleep – I give
– a little part of me
So I, (I) could see – my Eve

Bridge:

The moment comes –this is right
I stand here waiting for my bride

Here she comes – oh – what a sight
Walking by the Father's side

Then I take her hands in mine

Chorus 3:

And we look into our Father's eyes
He declares (we are) husband and wife
From the start – this was on God's heart
A man and woman forms their bond of love
As two become one
