

The Fall

(Gen 2&3)

[Joe Vermeulen]

1. God created – all things perfect
He made ev'rything good
He understood – what was needed
To make a world – and complete it
That's when – He thought of you

In His image – He made Adam
Placed inside him – ev'ry person contained
– In his loins
Carried the seed – of the nations
Adam's descendants
- * But he couldn't conceive, so God made another
One with a womb, Eve would be mother of every soul to ever walk the earth
She'd be the first – one to give birth
2. In the garden – came another
Fallen angel – as a serpent he speaks
– To the woman
Trading a lie – for a kingdom
Earthly dominion

There stood Adam – by the woman
Saying nothing – also buying the lie –
Eats fruit forbidden
– Innocence lost – eyes wide open
Offspring now broken
- * So they both hid away, shameful and naked
Shying away – from the call of the Maker
Freely they had chosen the sting of death
The grave open'd wide – in sin they would die
- * But God intervened – made a sacrifice
An animal slain – the first to die
(with) (the) Shedding of blood
For the sake of man

(Their) nakedness clothed – by leathery robes

Instrumental:

Bridge:

Tears on their face raining down
Life in God's garden now gone
Creation starts groaning in pain
It's beauty and splendour – slips away

Instrumental:

3. Hear the prophets – through the ages
Always looking to the Saviour Who'd come – crush the serpent
Lifting the curse from creation
Bringing redemption

In the fullness – of time
Came this sign –
God would be born through a woman
Spirit conceived in a virgin
Reclaiming His kingdom

- * The light of the world
Invading the darkness
Breaking our chains
He's freeing the hopeless
He's binding up the wounds of our broken hearts
Jesus had come
God's only Son

- * Giving His life – as a sacrifice
Embracing the cross – He pays the cost
Defeating death He rose up from the grave
So we can be clothed
In heavenly robes
