

Redwood River Watershed

Public Survey

1. What is your county of residence?

- Lincoln
- Lyon
- Murray
- Pipestone
- Redwood
- Other _____

2. Do you live in an urban or rural setting?

- Urban
- Rural
- Other _____

3. What do you see as the most important issues facing natural resources in the area (please choose 5)?

- Pollutants like sediment, nutrients, and bacteria impacting aquatic life and recreation
- Management of aquatic invasive species
- Urban stormwater runoff
- Protecting drinking water from contamination
- Protecting groundwater supplies
- Flood damage reduction
- Changing weather patterns creating heavier rains and periods of drought
- Erosion along river and streambanks
- Maintenance and repair of drainage systems
- Preserving stream habitat and removing barriers to fish passage
- Loss of wildlife habitat
- Protecting soil health
- Development pressure along shorelines and streambanks
- Functioning buffers and riparian habitat
- Wetland protection and restoration
- Other _____

4. Which of the following activities do you do within the watershed (check all that apply)?

- Fishing
- Hunting
- Farming
- Walking or running on trails
- Birdwatching, wildlife watching, or similar activities
- Swimming, boating, or similar activities
- Other _____

5. What are some words that come to mind when thinking of the Redwood River Watershed (1-5 words)?

6. Are there any specific waterbodies, stream reaches, or natural areas you are most concerned about? And why?

7. Are there any topics, resources, problems, or opportunities we didn't cover in this survey you would like to comment on?

8. Are you representing an organization or citizens/general public? If you are representing an organization, please provide the name of the organization.

9. If you would like to be more involved in the planning process, we are looking for individuals to serve on an Advisory Committee. The Advisory Committee will meet three times over the next year to help make decisions about plan content. If interested in joining, please provide your name, phone number, and email address below with your area of interest.

Thank You!