Call to Worship

L: We come into this space with chapters we wish we could tear out.
The regrets we carry, the griefs that still echo, the shame we hide in the dark.

C: But God does not demand a blank page. God takes our whole history in scarred, loving hands.

L: Every misstep, every broken thread, every silent sorrow, nothing is wasted in the economy of grace.

C: Here, our past is not erased; it is redeemed.

L: Until the healing is deeper than the hurt,

C: And love shines larger than our shame. Let us worship the God who makes all things new.

Postlude Marni Wiggins

We exist to reflect the love of Jesus so that others may experience God's love as we grow together in faith, love and service

“Redeemed Stories”

God doesn't ask for a blank page or a spotless record.

He takes our whole, messy history, every regret, every scar, every broken piece and holds it in grace.

Here, our story isn't erased; it's rewritten. He redeems the hurt, piece by piece, until his love shines so much larger than our shame that the dark just fades away.
