Lord God, we thank You that the Spirit meets us in our weakness and bridges every gap. We bring these offerings to You now, asking that You bless and break them to feed a world in need. Postlude Marni Wiggins

We exist to reflect the love of Jesus so that others may experience God’s love as we grow together in faith, love and service

The Breath That Carries Us

We do not come here today because our hands are full of strength or our minds are clear of doubt.

We come because the road is weary, and our voices sometimes falter before the words can form.

How beautiful it is, then, to know that our exhaustion is not a barrier to God, but the very place where grace begins.

In the quiet spaces of our deepest longing, where we do not even know how to pray as we ought, the Holy Spirit steps into the gap.

With sighs too deep for words, the Spirit carries our unspoken burdens, bridging the distance between our frailty and the Father's heart. Lean back into that divine embrace today.

You do not have to carry it all. Breathe out your weakness, and let the Breath of God carry you.
