

There is no excuse for a neglect discharge. Neglect discharges are no accident. All neglect discharges and firearms accidents fall into two categories. Carelessness or ignorance of firearms safety.

If you have a negligent discharge while in class, you will automatically fail. If you have a negligent discharge after you have passed your proficiency, your passing grade will be revoked. NO EXCEPTIONS

You may retake the class at a later date. However, you will be charged a fee of $100 to retake your proficiency. No refund will be given.

You will be asked to leave the range immediately without incident. Our staff will clear your firearm and return it to you with a barrel lock. You may remove it after you exit the property.

I have read and completely understand. The statements made above, if I have a negligent discharge during class, I will pack up my belongings without incident and leave the facility. For everyone's safety, class will not resume until you have left the facility/ property.
