

Hello! Thank you for taking the time to read this and consider hiring me as your professional cleaner!

I have been in the event industry for many years. Managing, coordinating and overseeing events ranging from weddings, corporate parties, to outreaches, retreats and even the most intimate of gatherings. I have found joy in this because of what an event has to offer. A place for people to come together, express and connect. A place for belonging.

Over the years I have also found myself in the realm of life-coach, mentoring and consulting. This developing in me an ability to help form systems, programs and plans for growth and development for all people of all ages.

During all of these happenings I discovered a great opportunity in professional cleaning!

My mom has owned her own cleaning business for many years now, touching the realm of commercial cleaning, hazardous clean-up, and has found her niche with residential cleans; including rental homes and units. She has taught me how to clean with meticulous precision and how to care for people with the same diligence and awareness.

I now enter back into this world of cleaning, having supported her through out the years. But this time, I do so as a single mom who is homeschooling my young son, and who is setting off on a journey to delve deeper into the world of mentoring and human care. Cleaning enables me to bring all these worlds together.

I ask that you would consider bringing me into your home/rental as a cleaner and new friend, and I graciously thank you for being a part of my journey.

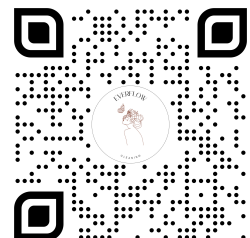

Warmest Regards,

Amanda "Mandy" Alley
