Life-Study of John - Study Guide

Dear brothers and sisters,

We will continue this week's truth pursuit with Message 48 of the Life-study of John, entitled "Life in Resurrection (3)". In this message we come to John 21:1-14 in which we see that in resurrection, the Lord moves and lives with the believers.

Here is an excerpt from this message followed by key verses for pray-reading and questions for your study:

"The matter of our living is very practical. This is why the Gospel of John has this additional chapter. Since we are the sons of God who have been regenerated and committed with the divine commission, the Lord will certainly take care of our living. We must learn the lesson of not giving up the Lord's commission because of our living. We must not give up the Lord's burden in order to care for our existence. We are not the people of the world; we are the children of God. We must seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and then the Lord will add the practical supply to us (Matt. 6:33). He will take care of our need. If we have been truly commissioned by the Lord for His burden, for His work, and for His testimony, we may be at peace and rest assured that the Lord will grant us the provision we need. This is the lesson in this portion of John 21.

The lesson the disciples learned here was that they must take care of the Lord's commission and trust in the Lord for their living. We must take care of the Lord's work and testimony instead of our living. If we give up the Lord's commission to look after our living, we shall fail. In 21:2-14, the Lord gave the disciples a lesson about their sustenance, showing them that their living does not depend upon their natural means but upon the Lord's will. If we are in the Lord's will and under His will, He will prepare a living for us even in the impossible places. However, if we take the natural way and go to the sea, that is, to the world, to find employment for our living, we shall be faced with failure. If we have been called by the Lord, we should not worry about our living. The Lord Jesus has a way to prepare fish without fishing. He will take care of our food, for He is the One who calls the things not being as being. The Lord who calls us will take care of our living. (Witness Lee, Life-study of John, Living Stream Ministry, Anaheim, CA, msg. 48).

Key Verses for pray-reading: John 21:1, 6, 14.
