

Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez makes the claim that Latino people are “native” people on “stolen land.” That’s not correct. Immigrating from a foreign nation to which they may be native—in this case, Puerto Rico, which is across the Caribbean and far from what is considered Native American land—is a very different thing. How disturbing to take from American history and people like this. They are thieves. Thieves of everything.

We’re talking about taking land from actual Indigenous people of the American country. We are not South America, and we are not Mexico. We are North America us. There is a big difference.

This party has shown its true colors: they are waging war against an actual Native population. And here comes this word again: virtue signaling. I am so disgusted by this party. America has never known racism this ugly, but boy, have they shown their true colors.

This experience would be psychological warfare and history erasure in order to support modern genocide and fourth-generation warfare by the Democratic Party. It’s one thing to advocate, but to target Americans with collective guilt and race-war campaigns like this? You are no longer a friend to the American people, Ocasio. You are part of the information-warfare campaign against us, a preacher fueling hatred against a country that once welcomed you. Sadly, in this modern war against U.S. citizens, you have become a major driving force. It’s an atrocity to colonize a land, claim it all as yours, and actively attempt to erase history: a crime against humanity.

Just a word: American natives—oh, we are so proudly White—are not the ones who did any of this, yet you have.
