Yet yelling "Death to America" is considered acceptable? Hatred directed at White Americans is acceptable? Actively attempting to establish a separate culture within an existing culture, while disregarding the heritage, history, and expressed concerns of the American people, is acceptable?

Why is this conduct not considered hateful toward Americans who have clearly rejected forced foreign cultural assimilation? The left has a lot to answer for these days. Including the Christian church that just burned (Soot) down, where was the Left media then?
