

Reflection – Shirts

Americans have gone from generously giving the shirts off their backs to having the shirts taken from them and given away against their will.

Particularly, White American Males are expected to not only provide their shirts, but to give away their entire wardrobes, or worse, are having their entire wardrobes stolen, just so that others can live luxuriously.

This isn't freedom. It's abuse of the American people, and the forcing of "gifts," or indentured servitude and exploitation. It's modern slavery.

What belongs to others is not a "gift" someone else may take.
