Moving Forward

We’re done with cold warfarists and communists.

Setting Boundaries with the Cold War in the US

1. “Excluding” the Cold Warfarists, as they have so adamantly done to the American people.
2. No longer accepting Cold Warfarist social “wrongs.”
3. Putting Bolshevik communists back in their places: At the very bottom of the ugliest barrel.
4. Saying no to forced cultural assimilation and mass instrumental migration by simply r*emigrating.*
5. Fighting crimefare, modern ghettoing, and instrumental social collapse with jail time and invoking wartime powers.
6. Disempowering looters through deportations, confiscation of property, and larger-than-life fines.
7. Saying no to any form of forced foreign or domestic activist manipulation, including language, propaganda and art.
8. Not participating in cultural exchange where it doesn't belong. New England is not Mexico, not Israel, not Muslim and not a foreign domain. No forced language assimilation and no forced participation.
9. Changing the dynamics back to represent our culture and honoring the native American people.
10. Saying no to ultraleft extremism, racism and blame-shifting, and representing the American people for who we truly are.
