“Direct threats against our president up 60%”

Recognizing the war for what it is.

AOL Article:

CHILLING: The Secret Service says it has investigated approximately 10,000 threats against its protectees so far in 2026, including President Donald Trump.

According to Secret Service Director Sean Curran, the agency investigated approximately 10,000 threats during the first half of 2026. During the same period in 2025, the agency had investigated approximately 7,000 threats.

That represents an increase of roughly 43%, which the Secret Service characterized as a 40% increase. Curran described the current threat environment as the largest he has seen during his 24-year career, stating that “the threat picture and environment is as large as I’ve ever seen it.”

Officials said most threats investigated by the Secret Service originate online, and that reports are treated as potentially credible until agents determine whether a person has the intent, means, and ability to carry out an attack.

This comes amid multiple recent threats and attempted attacks involving President Trump and other protected officials.

The numbers are deeply concerning and demonstrate why threats against the President, his family, and other protected officials must be taken seriously and investigated thoroughly.
