

When Foreigners Claim Americans Are “Gentrifying,” Their Own Country

Response

“If they are, good for them. Is she a foreigner being territorial about America and targeting White Americans? This is the question of our times. America has no obligation to remain in decline or become ghettoized. In fact, many Americans are currently at war for exactly the opposite, we want America to be safer and free from crime.

She also sounds like a radical activist and foreign to me, which makes me wonder whether this is another example of foreign influence or the promotion of policies that encourage outside interests over American communities. This experience of outsider influence dehumanizing and degrading Americans has become a major issue, akin to a Cold War.

Foreign Influence

- Foreign influence
- Foreign-driven policies
