

We gave you our light; you left us in the dark.
Where are you? Seems like neither here nor there.
• Certainly not Americans, because Americans care.

Chicanx Movement + BlamesovJF+ Movement

It's complicated. It's immigrants. It's firstborns. It's anti-American.

A ride on the hood of the American vehicle (with or without our consent), and then they skunked us too. These movements inherit racism. They move to override American places with other races, replacing Americans along the way. So far, they have succeeded.

Why? Because the American vehicle supported it. But we got skunked anyway. It was, of course, never about Americans or their vehicle—just the ride.

We said: Take my place. Have a seat. Join my table. You before me. Anywhere. Checkout lines? Sure. Want my food? Want my blankets? Curtains? Couch? Table? House? You earned it. Free fare everywhere—we were here and there. All yours.

“Toma,” they said. Toma.

“I’m a victim.” I have a continent, but I’m a victim.

But then the cake was gone. Tomb.

Whites disappeared. They celebrated. Catacomb.

“Colonials! Pilgrims! Toma, toma! More, more, more!”

Envy led to deceit.

A skull. Two skulls. Three skulls. A pile of bones.

An ivory tower. Your skull. My tower.

I own you! I suppress you! I win! Champion.

Anti-authority. Anti-your authority. No authority—mine.

Cannibalism. Aztecianism. Never Americanism. Not good enough. We’re better. Look at us. Aren’t we beautiful? Don’t you love our art?

Culture shock.

Yours never mattered. No culture there. White culture? Ghost culture.

Blanca. Gringa.

Never mattered.

Dime! Stalked you. Tell me! I want to know all about you—your insides.

Get in your gut!

Swallow you. Lick the flesh from your bones. Put a hat on you. Rip you from your throne.

Sabotage. Rid of me. Conspiracy. Underground.

Soon, your town. Ghost town.

But look at me—taking your seat.

Seat taken.

Segregation. Racism. Subjugation.

Enslave a nation.

Us? I find you guilty of criminal conspiracy and treason against the American people.

You cannot damage a nation to this extent, after they have provided you a seat out of the kindness of their heart, and not expect retaliation.

You are either with us or you are not.

The “Other Side”

Immigrants refusing assimilation to the American country, but living here.

“Who’s the illegal alien, pilgrim?”

And other anti-white American sentiment.

Equality and friendship, sharing, never meant American slavery.

I don’t know—something about that weird skull machete movement that Americans don’t like.

Can you blame them? No, but I know who we can:

Chicanx Movement + BlamesovJF+ War.

It’s a little to- ma t-ch.

American, or “go home weird gringo-hating skunk-skull god.”

Sources

- <https://storymaps.arcgis.com/stories/402d58c53a354b92a7adae7e3bc2066f>
 - <https://www.alumni.ucsb.edu/coastlines/spring-2019/chicano-activists-builds-health-empire>
 - <https://www.972mag.com/this-is-what-it-looks-like-to-be-hit-by-israels-skunk/>
 - <https://www.amazon.com/Slaves-Colonial-Cambridge-American-Studies/dp/1107635772>
-

~ All day she beats her drum ~

We are the marching saints.