National Sovereignty · Heritage Preservation · Protection · Self-Determination

Foundational Principles

1. American Independence — Preservation of national sovereignty and self-government.
2. American Heritage — Recognition and preservation of America's Indigenous, Acadian, European and diverse ancestral histories.
3. Protection from Forced Foreign Assimilation — Safeguarding cultural identity, language, traditions, and freedom of conscience.
4. Protection from Modern Colonial Warfare — Resistance to foreign domination, coercive influence, displacement, exploitation, and warfare that threatens civilian populations and national independence.
5. Constitutional Justice — Protection of individual liberties, equal rights, and American constitutional principles.
6. Generational Preservation — Protecting the heritage and freedoms passed to future generations.
7. Protection from Modern Slavery and Human Trafficking — Defending human dignity, personal freedom, and the right to live without exploitation, coercion, or forced labor.
8. Protection from War, Drugs, and Organized Violence — Safeguarding American communities from warfare, illicit drug trafficking, violent criminal networks, and the destruction of families and neighborhoods.
9. Protection from Violent Protest and Civil Disorder — Preserving public safety, peaceful civic participation, and the rights of communities while distinguishing peaceful protest from violence, intimidation, and destruction.
10. Protection Against Societal Collapse — Preserving the stability of families, communities, institutions, public services, and the constitutional foundations of American society.

Our Declaration

America is an independent nation. We hold a preserved heritage. We are a people protected from forced assimilation, colonial domination, modern slavery, exploitation, and the loss of self-determination.

America's independence includes the right to preserve its history, identity, heritage, and self-determination.

Americans reject forced foreign assimilation, modern colonialism, anti-Americanism, human exploitation, and authoritarian domination. We reject political systems and movements that seek to overpower the American people, undermine their independence, or turn their freedoms into chains.

Americans reserve the right to protect their homes, their lives, their families, their communities, and their liberty.

We recognize the importance of public safeguarding, constitutional protections, public safety, and the preservation of our people and homeland.
