White Genocide

White Genocide is a term coined by white supremacists for propaganda purposes as shorthand for one of the most deeply held modern white supremacist convictions: that the white race is 'dying' due to growing non-white populations and 'forced assimilation,' all of which are deliberately engineered and controlled by a Jewish conspiracy to destroy the white race. This same conviction can be seen in the most popular white supremacist slogan around the globe: "We must secure the existence of our people and a future for white children." White supremacists commonly claim that they must take action, even violent action, or the 'white race' will 'perish from the Earth.'

Our Discovery: Many White American races may be minorities within American culture.

For example, Acadian, Basque, Native Celtic, or other populations. There is much of American history yet to be unearthed. Sadly, this history is being told by foreigners and leftist propagandists in an uncivil way, and they have adopted a position that seeks to keep American Whites from their own self-determination, yet every other race may have self-determination, advocacy, safety, and protections.

For example, if you make a claim against Jews, it is antisemitism. Yet if you target Whites, they, for protecting themselves, are called racist, supremacist, conspiracy theorists, Nazis, or violent. Whites can be targeted by any race and then have blame campaigns directed against them. White males are particularly denied humanity and targeted for self advocacy. This is the result of mass propaganda campaigns, information tailoring, historical invasion, erasure and instrumental migration, politics, war, and deeply embedded racism against Whites.

It is very dangerous to treat the White population like this, which is why it is important that any efforts to keep American Whites from self-protection and self-determination must be taken seriously as forms of extreme discrimination, racism, and as wartime assaults, not simply propaganda, not simply politics, but as it is, a crime against White humanity.
