“OSIRAMS Energy”

Intrusive Energy

When people intrude on your life even though you do not know them, there are a few clear ways to describe this behavior.

Uninvited involvement

These are individuals who step into your personal story without being part of it. They show interest or try to influence your relationships, history, or private matters even though they were never invited in. OSIRAMS Energy

Boundary crossing

They move past healthy boundaries. They involve themselves where they have no place to be, sometimes out of curiosity, insecurity, or manipulation. OSIRAMS Energy

Interference

Their actions interrupt the natural course of your life. They insert themselves into conversations, histories, or emotional spaces that do not belong to them. OSIRAMS Energy

Unfamiliar observers

These are people who watch, comment, or interfere from the outside. You do not know them, yet they behave as if they have a role in your past or present. OSIRAMS Energy
