

Community Safety Council, Volunteer Incentive Program – Native Generational Americans, Public Servants

What if we proposed a Community Safety Council Grant Program or Volunteer Incentive Program for generational Americans, those with 100–200 years of American ancestry, American Native police officers, Americans, military veterans, and qualified public-safety professionals? Grants, stipends, training assistance, or volunteer incentives could support their service on community safety councils across the country. The program could be offered as a voluntary opportunity.
