
They have bludgeoned our American spirit and heart, and now they are celebrating our decline. Anyone who speaks out is labeled with horrible names, racist, white supremacist, Nazi, particularly by the new “foreigner-faces” themselves.

They celebrate our decline, and they are rewarded with prizes.

They must enjoy their new country at the cost of the American people.

It is a real war: slavery, thievery, conspiracy, and white decline are their weapons.

Ours? To thrive. To remember. To safeguard. To write our own story. To enjoy our freedoms as we always have. To share our table only with those we love. To be truly American.
