

DEI Hearing “Wrap-Up”

Weaponizing Diversity Against the American People

A War-Riddled Fault Line

Source: <https://oversight.house.gov/release/hearing-wrap-up-dei-promotes-discrimination-and-hinders-equality/>

Where the majority “minority” may openly discriminate while others are vilified even when they do not, a war of values, humanity, and compassion emerges. We have not seen the same level of compassion extended to whites as is shown to other members of our society. Where whites have been left behind to the point of mass suicide, mass rape, and genocide, it is time for change. This is our modern reality.

Where swords have been lifted against the American people, they must fall. We are joined by spirit, never by coercion, force, intimidation, protest attrition, war, or slavery.

I pray for Americans, and it is my hope that the American people awaken to the atrocities we are suffering within our borders and on American soil.

I support Native, Anthropological Americans and believe they must be supported where they have been left behind.

Cowdrey