

Dark Spirited Energy

Dark-spirited energy moves through our communities like a creeping vine. It begins with soft targeting—small, almost imperceptible acts—before spiraling into full-blown hard targeting that can hollow a soul. This is the political problem of our age: an insidious energy, wreaking havoc on our communities like a form of psychological warfare. The story is the same as in World War II, only cloaked in a different age. This time, protecting our home front is treated as suspect, as though boundaries themselves are wrong. We are blameshifted, gaslit, manipulated, controlled, and harmed. Yet the truth remains unshaken, for light always knows darkness, and all souls have the natural power and ability to navigate it. Each of us faces a choice—good or evil, light or darkness. If you see a friend going down that path, do your best to reach them, but take heed, for dark-spirited energy can take hold. Stay steadfast in the light of God, truth and love.
