

Ode to Shriners, Union of Saints

Proudly we gather, shoulder to shoulder,
Saints of the union, steadfast and bolder,
With banners lifted, with flags held high,
We honor the nation, beneath one sky.

Pilgrims of spirit, with hearts aligned,
Defenders of freedom, with hands entwined,
Through streets we travel, through skies we soar,
On land and water, forevermore.

Our sisterhood, our brotherhood too,
A family of service, noble and true,
With laughter, with courage, with hands that heal,
We march together, with iron and steel.

Little machines roll, shining with pride,
Symbols of joy as the people abide,
From veterans' ranks to children's cheer,
The Union of Saints is forever here.

So lift up your voices, let unity ring,
With love for each other, this anthem we sing,
An interpath people, our journeys combined,
A Union of Saints, forever aligned.
